Draft Chiefs Defend Plan To Defer College Students

WASHINGTON (AP) — An estimated 160,000 students sit down today to pour over Selective Service draft deferment tests across the country.

And in Washington, Selective Service officials defended their policy of deferring college students from the draft.

The tests may be used by local draft boards in considering student deferments for the school year beginning this fall. It is not mandatory that a student seeking a deferment take them.

Calm Returns To Pompano After Riots

POMPAÑO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A relative calm prevailed in the riot-ridden Negro section of Pompano Beach today with police and Negro leaders anticipating a prompt return to normalcy.

"I really think it's all over," said the Rev. Samuel Collier, pastor of the Mount Calvary Negro Baptist Church, a leader in efforts to restore peace.

And Police Chief Joseph Ziegler said he had no plans to dispatch extra police units into the area where some 600 Negroes rioted Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

Liquor stores and bars, closed Wednesday as bands of Negroes roamed, were open for business.

The only place boarded up was Russ' supermarket, where a white owner, Arthur Marks, 42, was alleged to have slapped a 10-year-old Negro boy Tuesday, touching off the disturbance.

Marks was charged with assault and battery. He moved out of his house and is reportedly staying at a hotel. He is free on $500 bond. Trial is scheduled for Monday.

House Panel OKs Defense Fund of $58.61 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Assuming that the war in Viet Nam may go on for another year, the House Appropriations Committee recommended today $58.61 billion in new Defense Department financing for the fiscal year starting July 1.

But the committee, in a report by Chairman George H. Mahon, D-Tex., emphasized that the decision for full-year financing was "arbitrary" and "should not be construed as a prediction as to when the war will end."

"The date of the termination of the war is, of course, impossible to predict," it added. The funds recommended by the committee, subject to House action next week, are $946.68 million more than President Johnson requested and almost $12 billion more than was appropriated in a comparable bill last year. Last year's initial bill was inadequate, however, and an extra $11 billion was provided in a second measure.

The money in the pending bill might not be enough, the committee noted, and several billion dollars more may be needed if combat operations continue at a high level. A Republican minority report,

2 Buddhist Pagodas Are Sealed Off

Ky's Troopers Remove Coffins, Prevent Funerals

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Paratroopers and riot police sealed off Hue's two main Buddhist pagodas today and hauled away the coffins of two women who burned themselves to death last month in the Buddhist struggle against Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's government.

Ky's men threw up barbed-wire barriers in front of the Dieu De and To Dam pagodas to prevent the Buddhists from holding a public funeral — and probably an antigovernment demonstration — in defiance of a ban by the progovernment mayor and provincial chief, Lt. Col. Phan Van Khoa.

The two bodies, of a nun and a 17-year-old girl, had been kept in the Dieu De pagoda since their immolations on May 29 and May 31. The nun was the first of 10 Buddhist suicides by fire which failed to arouse sufficient public horror to bring down Ky's government.

Three Buddhist monks and about 20 soldiers of dubious loyalty also were arrested in the northern Buddhist stronghold, where Ky's forces sized two weeks ago after more than three months of rebellion.

6 Oldtime Indian Wars Vets Living

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Veterans Administration noted today that 90 years ago Saturday, June 25, 1876, Gen. George Custer of the 7th Cavalry and his men made their last stand at Little Big Horn in Montana.

Nobody from the contingent survived that battle. But on the rolls of the VA are six known surviving veterans of America's Indian Wars. They are the smallest band of veterans in the nation. Their ages range from 89 to 99.

The original force of Indian fighters numbered 106,000. The six known survivors are Reginald A. Bradley, 99, Oakland, Calif.; Harry E. Brockman, 92, Franks, Mo.; Fredrak W. Trask, 94, Chicago, Ill.; Charles C. Jones, 93, Cedar Rapids, Iowa; William Sutphin, 93, South Boston, Va.; and Griffith C. Williams, 89, Coon Rapids, Minn.

The six, who served between 1860 and 1898, remembered those days when VA field officials visited them this past week.

One was Bradley, a well-educated young Englishman who came to America to seek adventure. He was 20 years old then, back in 1887. He remembers the rations Indian fighters used to get—fresh meat, salt meat, flour, coffee, canned tomatoes, potatoes, sugar and dry beans, and that's all.

'I Have Too Much on Him,' Ex-Aide Says of Senator Now under Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—A former aide to Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., was quoted today as saying he had nothing to fear from the senator because "I have too much on him."

Michael O'Hare, Dodd's former office manager, attributed the statement to Gerald Zeiller, who once was a top aid to Dodd and now works for Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H.

O'Hare did not elaborate in his testimony before the Senate Ethics Committee and gave no reason for thinking Dodd might want to retaliate against Zeiller. Zeiller testified Thursday in support of Dodd at one point.

O'Hare was one of a group who reportedly removed documents from Dodd's files and turned them over to columnists Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson. With completion of his cross-examination, the committee turned to testimony presented on Dodd's behalf by his attorney, John F. Sonnett.

O'Hare testified his conversation with Zeiller came after he had been given the mission of firing his own girlfriend from Dodd's staff.

O'Hare said he had expressed amazement to Zeiller how he could have ended his relationship with Dodd "so gracefully" with even a send off from the Connecticut senator.

O'Hare quoted Zeiller as telling him "I don't have to worry about Sen. Dodd doing anything against me. I have too much on him."

O'Hare said that in October 1965 another Dodd employee told him that the senator did not like O'Hare's girlfriend, Miss Terry L. Golden, and "since she is your girlfriend I thought you would rather fire her than me."

Miss Golden, who testified Thursday, said she had been Zeiller's secretary.

The six-member bipartisan committee permitted Sonnett to present two witnesses Thursday following testimony by Dodd's former secretary, Mrs. Marjorie Carpenter. She testified that the two, David Martin and Gerald Zeiller, had speculated Dodd must have been paid at least $10,000 by Julius Klein for a trip to West Germany in 1964. Martin and Zeiller promptly denied her charge.

New Balloon Put in Orbit

Earth-Mapping Project Slated

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — America's new star in the sky—a silvery 100-foot balloon—orbited the poles today, providing a new way to find out where on earth things are.

PAGEOS, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's earth-mapping project, is a 125-pound plastic balloon coated with aluminum. PAGEOS stands for Passive Geodetic Earth-Orbiting Satellite.

The PAGEOS satellite is made of Du Pont "Mylar" manufactured in the Circleville plant, according to Charles Howle, quality control supervisor here.

Howle said the "Mylar" balloon should be visible from time-to-time, but there was no schedule immediately available for local visibility. The local engineer noted that PAGEOS was put into orbit at a higher altitude than the Echo satellites, also made of Du Pont "Mylar", that are still in orbit.

The big ball, intricately folded inside a canister, was pushed into orbit Thursday by a thrust-augmented Thor-Agena-D rocket combination. Its orbital path is circular, 2,600 miles above the earth.

Once in orbit, the balloon was popped out of its protective canister. The big gas bag expanded as the heat of the sun vaporized chemicals inside.

PAGEOS' mission, scientists said, is to act as the world's highest-flying photographers' model, providing a pinpoint of reflected light near the horizon nightly.

This pinpoint of light, photographed from several points on earth against a background of stars, will provide the prime reference point for a 5-year study aimed at correcting the world's maps.

The big ball, scientists said, should be visible to the naked eye as it reflects the light of the sun. They said the satellite would be as bright as the star Polaris (the North Star).

Photographs, to be taken from 40 points on earth, will be coordinated to locate, precisely, the continents, islands and other earthly features.

The resulting data, scientists explained, will enable them to locate any point on earth to within 100 feet of its true position.

Faisal of Saudi Arabia In King-Size Hassle Here

NEW YORK (AP) — King Faisal of Saudi Arabia, stripped of his standing as an official city visitor, begins his visit to New York today as the guest of the United Nations and several private groups.

Mayor John V. Lindsay, under public and political pressure, canceled a planned welcoming dinner for Faisal Thursday night. By order of the mayor, no city official was on hand to greet Faisal when the king arrived at La Guardia Airport from Washington.

Lindsay said Faisal's remark in Washington about Jews "has made it impossible for me, as mayor of New York City, to extend the official welcome of the city."

Faisal had been asked at a Washington luncheon about an Arab boycott of U.S. business firms trading with Israel.

"Unfortunately Jews support Israel and we consider those who provide assistance to our enemies as our own enemies," the king replied.

Lindsay commented: "The remark is extremely offensive, not just to Jews, but to all the citizens of New York."

New York has about 2 million Jews.

Faisal attends a luncheon at the United Nations today as guest of the world organization.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg also plans to attend the luncheon barring "an unforeseen event," said a spokesman for the U.S. delegation.

Tonight, the Arab monarch is scheduled to be the guest of the Arabian American Oil Co. at a dinner at the Waldorf Astoria, where he is staying. Other receptions by private organizations are scheduled through Wednesday.

Some 75 Arab diplomats greeted Faisal Thursday when he stepped from an Air Force plane at La Guardia. The king declined to speak to newsmen and was driven to the hotel.

There, in place of the canceled city dinner, Faisal — who has ulcers and takes along his own chef — invited Saudi officials to share a private meal in his suite.

In Washington, the White House said it would have no comment on New York's snub to Faisal, except to say the mayor had not been in touch with President Johnson. Congressional comment was generally unfavorable to the mayor, except for legislators from New York.

Red Chinese Premier Due In Albania

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP) — Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai left for Albania today after talks with Romanian leaders that were clearly marked by disagreement over Peking's refusal to come to terms with Moscow.

Neither Chou nor Romanian Premier Ion Gheorghe Maurer gave any indication in their farewell speeches of any progress toward agreement in more than 20 hours of talks during Chou's seven-day stay.

Strong evidence of discord came Thursday night when a Chinese-Romanian friendship rally was delayed for more than two hours by a reported dispute over the speech Chou was to give.

Romanian Communist party chief Nicola Ceausescu was reliably reported to have disagreed with the attack Chou planned to make on the Soviet Union and to have persuaded him to omit any reference to the crucial issues of the trend.

Communist sources said the Romanian leader threatened to call off the rally unless Chou agreed to refrain from attacking the Soviets. Chou finally gave in and gave a routine speech which omitted mention of Ceausescu and referred to the Romanian people rather than the regime.

Water Usage At All-Time High in City

Circleville's water situation brought both cheers and frowns this week.

On Wednesday, the city's pumps turned out an all-time high in production — 1,451,000 gallons. At one time, the output averaged 1,779 gallons per minute.

Ervin Leist, head of the water department, said the city's equipment was not taxed by the record flow; it has a peak capacity of 2,600,000 million gallons. And he envisioned no shortage developing.

But some of the city's housewives frowned at the water situation. It was discolored, played hob with laundry efforts.

Leist explained the heavy flow stirred up some of the piping and caused the discoloration. He said this frequently occurs when heavy lawn-sprinkling is being practiced.

Water use all this week has been heavy. On Monday, the city used 1,232,000 gallons, Tuesday 1,247,000 gallons, and Thursday 1,348,000 gallons.

Mississippi Area Is Scene of Recent Fighting

CANTON, Miss. (AP)—A task force from the Mississippi civil rights march sped to Philadelphia, Miss., today, fulfilling a vow to return to the Ku Klux Klan stronghold where Negroes encountered threats, fistfights and gunfire three days ago.

With Dr. Martin Luther King in command, a caravan of 15 cars set out in mid-morning from Canton after a hectic night of tear gas and tension. The band breakfasted on spaghetti before beginning the 60-mile trip.

The main body of the march remained in Canton to organize a march on the courthouse square.

Gov. Paul B. Johnson urged Philadelphia residents to stay away from the King rally to spur Negro voter registration. "We will maintain the peace come hell or high water," vowed Johnson.

Another task force — even smaller than the group headed for Philadelphia — began plodding down U.S. 51, the same highway where it all started by James H. Meredith at Memphis 20 days and 227 miles ago. Jackson—the goal—is 25 miles from Canton.

Meredith is the slender Negro who broke the racial barrier at the University of Mississippi in 1962. He was wounded by shotgun blasts June 6 as he walked near Hernando. Civil rights leaders rushed in to take up his march.

Recovered from his wounds, Meredith—now a Columbia University law student—planned to rejoin the march today.

Claude Sterrett, traveling with Meredith, said they would leave Memphis by car at 3 p.m. EST.

Meredith was carrying the ivory and ebony walking cane given him by an African chieftain with tape binding the crack caused when he fell on the cane during the shooting.

King, who got a strong dose of tear gas in Thursday night's uproar in Canton, called the highway patrol move to drive the crowd off a Negro school ground "brutal inhumanity."

The barrage of about 40 tear gas canisters came after the marchers set up their big tents on the school ground in defiance of the city's refusal to allow them to camp there.

House Panel OKs Defense Fund of $58.61 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Assuming that the war in Viet Nam may go on for another year, the House Appropriations Committee recommended today $58.61 billion in new Defense Department financing for the fiscal year starting July 1.

But the committee, in a report by Chairman George H. Mahon, D-Tex., emphasized that the decision for full-year financing was "arbitrary" and "should not be construed as a prediction as to when the war will end."

"The date of the termination of the war is, of course, impossible to predict," it added.

The funds recommended by the committee, subject to House action next week, are $946.68 million more than President Johnson requested and almost $12 billion more than was appropriated in a comparable bill last year. Last year's initial bill was inadequate, however, and an extra $11 billion was provided in a second measure.

The money in the pending bill might not be enough, the committee noted, and several billion dollars more may be needed if combat operations continue at a high level.

A Republican minority report, agreeing that the huge appropriation won't be enough called for creation of a "blue ribbon commission" to make an "independent and objective evaluation of the projected defense posture of this country."

"What could be more penny-wise and pound-foolish than to save a few cents on defense today only to lose the peace tomorrow?" the report asked.

The increases over the President's formal appropriation requests included $163.3 million for the new Nike-X antiballistic missile system and an unspecified amount for construction of one nuclear powered frigate instead of two conventional destroyers. The administration was opposed to both of these programs.

Also included, but not provided for in the President's budget, were $67 million to retain separate Army National Guard and Army Reserve organizations; $6 million to continue operation of a B52 fleet of 600 aircraft; $19.9 million for additional eight observation helicopters; and $55 million to provide for increased production capability for the F12 interceptor plane.

New Balloon Put in Orbit

Earth-Mapping Project Slated

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — America's new star in the sky—a silvery 100-foot balloon—orbited the poles today, providing a new way to find out where on earth things are.

PAGEOS, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's earth-mapping project, is a 125-pound plastic balloon coated with aluminum. PAGEOS stands for Passive Geodetic Earth-Orbiting Satellite.

The PAGEOS satellite is made of Du Pont "Mylar" manufactured in the Circleville plant, according to Charles Howle, quality control supervisor here.

Howle said the "Mylar" balloon should be visible from time-to-time, but there was no schedule immediately available for local visibility.

The local engineer noted that PAGEOS was put into orbit at a higher altitude than the Echo satellites, also made of Du Pont "Mylar", that are still in orbit.

The big ball, intricately folded inside a canister, was pushed into orbit Thursday by a thrust-augmented Thor-Agena-D rocket combination. Its orbital path is circular, 2,600 miles above the earth.

Once in orbit, the balloon was popped out of its protective canister. The big gas bag expanded as the heat of the sun vaporized chemicals inside.

PAGEOS' mission, scientists said, is to act as the world's highest-flying "photographers" model, providing a pinpoint of reflected light near the horizon nightly.

Photographs, to be taken from 41 points on earth, will be coordinated to locate, precisely, the continents, islands and other earthly features.

Faisal of Saudi Arabia In King-Size Hassle Here

NEW YORK (AP) — King Faisal of Saudi Arabia, stripped of his standing as an official city visitor, begins his visit to New York today as the guest of the United Nations and several private groups.

Mayor John V. Lindsay, under public and political pressure, canceled a planned welcoming dinner for Faisal Thursday night. By order of the mayor, no city official was on hand to greet Faisal when the king arrived at La Guardia Airport from Washington.

Lindsay said Faisal's remark in Washington about Jews "has made it impossible for me, as mayor of New York City, to extend the official welcome of the city."

Faisal had been asked at a Washington luncheon about an Arab boycott of U.S. business firms trading with Israel.

"Unfortunately Jews support Israel and we consider those who provide assistance to our enemies as our own enemies," the king replied.

Lindsay commented: "The remark is extremely offensive, not just to Jews, but to all the citizens of New York."

New York has about 2 million Jews.

Faisal attends a luncheon at the United Nations today as guest of the world organization.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg also plans to attend the luncheon barring "an unforeseen event," said a spokesman for the U.S. delegation.

Tonight, the Arab monarch is scheduled to be the guest of the Arabian American Oil Co. at a dinner at the Waldorf Astoria, where he is staying. Other receptions by private organizations are scheduled through Wednesday.

Some 75 Arab diplomats greeted Faisal Thursday when he stepped from an Air Force plane at La Guardia. The king declined to speak to newsmen and was driven to the hotel.

There, in place of the canceled city dinner, Faisal—who has ulcers and takes along his own chef—invited Saudi officials to share a private meal in his suite.

In Washington, the White House said it would have no comment on New York's snub to Faisal, except to say the mayor had not been in touch with President Johnson. Congressional comment was generally unfavorable to the mayor, except for legislators from New York.

Red Chinese Premier Due In Albania

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP) — Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai left for Albania today after talks with Romanian leaders that were clearly marked by disagreement over Peking's refusal to come to terms with Moscow.

Neither Chou nor Romanian Premier Ion Gheorghe Maurer gave any indication in their farewell speeches of any progress toward agreement in more than 20 hours of talks during Chou's seven-day stay.

Strong evidence of discord came Thursday night when a Chinese-Romanian friendship rally was delayed for more than two hours by a reported dispute over the speech Chou was to give.

Romanian Communist party chief Nicola Ceausescu was reliably reported to have disagreed with the attack Chou planned to make on the Soviet Union and to have persuaded him to omit any reference to the crucial issues of the trend.

Communist sources said the Romanian leader threatened to call off the rally unless Chou agreed to refrain from attacking the Soviets. Chou finally gave in and gave a routine speech which omitted mention of Ceausescu and referred to the Romanian people rather than the regime.

Draft Aimed at Poor?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Alvin O'Konski, R-Wis., claiming that no one in his district from a family with more than $5,000 income has been drafted in six months, declared that "if the draft continues, we won't have the poor with us very long."

Water Usage At All-Time High in City

Circleville's water situation brought both cheers and frowns this week.

On Wednesday, the city's pumps turned out an all-time high in production — 1,451,000 gallons. At one time, the output averaged 1,779 gallons per minute.

Ervin Leist, head of the water department, said the city's equipment was not taxed by the record flow; it has a peak capacity of 2,600,000 million gallons. And he envisioned no shortage developing.

But some of the city's housewives frowned at the water situation. It was discolored, played hob with laundry efforts.

Leist explained the heavy flow stirred up some of the piping and caused the discoloration. He said this frequently occurs when heavy lawn-sprinkling is being practiced.

Water use all this week has been heavy. On Monday, the city used 1,232,000 gallons, Tuesday 1,247,000 gallons, and Thursday 1,348,000 gallons.

U.S. Reds Post Guards At National Convention

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Communist party is taking no chances on uninvited guests crashing its national convention in a hall on Manhattan's Lower East Side.

Tight security measures include male ushers standing guard at each entrance of the convention hall. They closely eye the convention cards of delegates and observers. Persons not carrying cards are given an about face and told not to return.

"We get enough trouble with the public on the outside, let alone inside here," said one usher.

One usher guards the front door of the hall. Once he is satisfied with a conventioneer's identification, the person then must register at a table inside the lobby. But before entering any meeting room, the person is required to flash his card again. The Democratic and Republi-

Mississippi Area Is Scene of Recent Fighting

CANTON, Miss. (AP)—A task force from the Mississippi civil rights march sped to Philadelphia, Miss., today, fulfilling a vow to return to the Ku Klux Klan stronghold where Negroes encountered threats, fistfights and gunfire three days ago.

With Dr. Martin Luther King in command, a caravan of 15 cars set out in mid-morning from Canton after a hectic night of tear gas and tension. The band breakfasted on spaghetti before beginning the 60-mile trip.

The main body of the march remained in Canton to organize a march on the courthouse square.

Gov. Paul B. Johnson urged Philadelphia residents to stay away from the King rally to spur Negro voter registration. "We will maintain the peace come hell or high water," vowed Johnson.

Another task force — even smaller than the group headed for Philadelphia — began plodding down U.S. 51, the same highway where it all started by James H. Meredith at Memphis 20 days and 227 miles ago. Jackson—the goal—is 25 miles from Canton.

Meredith is the slender Negro who broke the racial barrier at the University of Mississippi in 1962. He was wounded by shotgun blasts June 6 as he walked near Hernando. Civil rights leaders rushed in to take up his march.

Recovered from his wounds, Meredith—now a Columbia University law student—planned to rejoin the march today.

Claude Stretter, traveling with Meredith, said they would leave Memphis by car at 3 p.m. EST.

Meredith was carrying the ivory and ebony walking cane given him by an African chieftain with tape binding the crack caused when he fell on the cane during the shooting.

King, who got a strong dose of tear gas in Thursday night's uproar in Canton, called the highway patrol move to drive the crowd off a Negro school ground "brutal inhumanity."

The barrage of about 40 tear gas canisters came after the marchers set up their big tents on the school ground in defiance of the city's refusal to allow them to camp there.

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI appealed anew today to world leaders to strive for an end to the war in Viet Nam.

He also voiced the hope that his recent meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko would help the cause of peace in the world and religious freedom in Russia.

During the operation, the school ground was ringed by patrolmen with leveled shotguns and rifles.

The action came after about 2,500 Negroes, with a sprinkling of whites, held a rally on the lawn at the courthouse in downtown Canton. The crowd then moved on to the school ground, about eight blocks away.

Many were kicked and slapped with gun butts by the gas-masked highway patrolmen as demonstrators groped blindly in the acrid clouds of tear gas rolling over the area.

One white Roman Catholic priest, the Rev. John Prater of Chicago, who has been on the march for several days, was punched in the stomach with a rifle butt. When a marcher protested that the priest was a "man of God," the officer snapped, "I'll put him with his God."

Eulogy Heard In Praise of 'Perfect Fool'

GLENDAL, Calif. (AP) — Comedian Ed Wynn, the giggly fire chief, everybody's "perfect fool," was a complete human being who "made a rich and meaningful thing of life," his eulogy said.

Wynn, 79, was eulogized at funeral services Thursday as a "funnyman, satirist, lampoonist, comic and cut-up — a zany little man with the funny voice and funny hat." He died Sunday of cancer.

Actor Jack Palance, reading the tribute written by Rod Serling, said Wynn "was a complete human being, with a complete human heart. There will never be another like him. And this is perhaps the principal sadness to attend his passing: 'That he cannot be replaced.'"

Fans, friends and the famous attended the services in the stone Church of the Reconciliation at Forest Lawn Memorial Park. The service began with the organ playing "Tea for Two" and "Around the World in Eighty Days," two of Wynn's favorite songs.

The solemn procession of honorary pallbearers included James Stewart, Red Skelton, Walt Disney, Dick Van Dyke, Cesar Romero and George Stevens.

All three were 20, all were from Portland, Ore., and all had graduated from a United Air Lines' training school just six weeks ago.

U.S. troops fought the Communists at two points in the central highlands. No major South Vietnamese fighting was reported. Eight more Reds were reported killed in Operation Nathan Hale near the coast 240 miles northeast of Saigon when U.S. 1st Air Cavalrymen drew about 150 North Vietnamese regulars into a fight. The losses raised the enemy toll to 347 killed since Monday.

Inland, the 25th Infantry Division killed 15 of the enemy in an encounter with a Communist force of about 150 near Pleiku. The Tropic Lightning Division's kill figure since it began Operation Paul Revere May 10 rose to 425, the U.S. command reported.

Among the targets of U.S. planes in 84 missions against North Viet Nam Thursday were six trucks that Navy aerial reconnaissance reported had been converted to use as locomotives. All six "loco-trucks" were destroyed by 500-pound bombs dropped by a formation of A4 Skyhawk jets from the carrier Ranger, a spokesman said.

The detection of the "loco-trucks" raised speculation that the heavy U.S. bombing program may have made a deep dent in North Viet Nam's railroad equipment.

them back with clubs and the choking gas, then pulled down the tent, packed them on the truck and had the truck hauled off with a wrecker.

During the operation, the school ground was ringed by patrolmen with leveled shotguns and rifles.

The action came after about 2,500 Negroes, with a sprinkling of whites, held a rally on the lawn at the courthouse in downtown Canton. The crowd then moved on to the school ground, about eight blocks away.

Many were kicked and slugged with gun butts by the gas-masked highway patrolmen as demonstrators groped blindly in the acrid clouds of tear gas rolling over the area.

One white Roman Catholic priest, the Rev. John Prater of Chicago, who has been on the march for several days, was punched in the stomach with a rifle butt. When a marcher protested that the priest was a "man of God," the officer snapped, "I'll put him with his God."

Eulogy Heard In Praise of 'Perfect Fool'

GLENDAL, Calif. (AP) — Comedian Ed Wynn, the giggly fire chief, everybody's "perfect fool," was a complete human being who "made a rich and meaningful thing of life," his eulogy said.

Wynn, 79, was eulogized at funeral services Thursday as a "funnyman, satirist, lampoonist, comic and cut-up — a zany little man with the funny voice and funny hat." He died Sunday of cancer.

Actor Jack Palance, reading the tribute written by Rod Serling, said Wynn "was a complete human being, with a complete human heart. There will never be another like him. And this is perhaps the principal sadness to attend his passing: 'That he cannot be replaced.'"

Fans, friends and the famous attended the services in the stone Church of the Reformation at Forest Lawn Memorial Park. The service began with the organ playing "Tea for Two" and "Around the World in Eighty Days," two of Wynn's favorite songs.

The solemn procession of honorary pallbearers included James Stewart, Red Skelton, Walt Disney, Dick Van Dyke, Cesar Romero and George Stevens.

Stewardess Dies After Beating

All three were 20, all were from Portland, Ore., and all had graduated from a United Air Lines' training school just six weeks ago.

a nephew of the Buddhist extremist Thich Tri Quang, now under arrest in a Saigon clinic where he continued a protest fast for the 17th day. Officials said the monk's kinsman provided the Buddhist struggle movement in Hue with arms from the stocks of the Vietnamese army's 1st Division.

U.S. troops fought the Communists at two points in the central highlands. No major South Vietnamese fighting was reported. Eight more Reds were reported killed in Operation Nathan Hale near the coast 240 miles northeast of Saigon when U.S. 1st Air Cavalrymen drew about 150 North Vietnamese regulars into a fight. The losses raised the enemy toll to 347 killed since Monday.

Inland, the 25th Infantry Division killed 15 of the enemy in an encounter with a Communist force of about 150 near Pleiku. The Tropic Lightning Division's kill figure since it began Operation Paul Reese May 10 rose to 425, the U.S. command reported.

Among the targets of U.S. planes in 84 missions against North Viet Nam Thursday were six trucks that Navy aerial reconnaissance reported had been converted to use as locomotives. All six "loco-trucks" were destroyed by 500-pound bombs dropped by a formation of A4 Skyhawk jets from the carrier Ranger, a spokesman said.

The detection of the "loco-trucks" raised speculation that the heavy U.S. bombing program may have made a deep dent in North Viet Nam's railroad equipment.

289,000 TIMES ACTUAL SIZE—It's an 18-foot-high model of a gene, basic unit of life, 289,000 times actual size, for display at the American Medical Association Convention in Chicago. It's the Upjohn display, made of plastic and aluminum, and illustrates the process of life creation by use of 1,350 light bulbs. Structure of the gene was discovered just a few years ago. This "blowup" cost more than $100,000.

Ill-Fated Nazi Drive Started 25 Years Ago

BERLIN (AP) — "It is war" Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov said to the German ambassador. "Did we deserve that?"

At the same hour, 25 years its partner in a nonaggression pact.

It was the start of Operation Barbarossa, designed to "eliminate Stalin's Russia," as Adolf Hitler put it.

It proved to be a fatal decision.

Molotov received German Ambassador Count Friedrich

von der Schulenburg in his Kremlin office to receive the declaration informing Russia of the German invasion.

The declaration charged that Moscow had broken the non-aggression treaty by preparing an attack in the rear of the Reich. "The fuhrer," it stated, "ordered the German Wehrmacht to oppose the threats with all means available."

Minutes earlier, at 3:15 a.m., three million German soldiers, supported by 3,580 tanks, 7,184 guns and 2,740 planes, had begun the attack.

The Russians were unprepared for the sudden onslaught. Within three weeks, German troops advanced 450 miles after their air force had knocked out key Russian bases.

A seemingly endless stream of Russian prisoners were herded into German camps. Col. Gen. Franz Taldor, chief of the German general staff, predicted victory within weeks. On Oct. 3 1941, Hitler told the Germans that Russia was "beaten down and will never rise again."

By Oct. 20, German tanks were 31 miles from Moscow. Ministry and diplomatic personnel started to leave the capital.

But relief was near. Within a few weeks, the battle-exhausted Germans were in the grip of winter while the Russians rallied for their first counteroffensive.

On the southern front, Rostov was recaptured Nov. 28. On Dec. 6 — the eve of Pearl Harbor — Marshal Georgi Zhukov struck at the central front with a thrust that nearly disintegrated the German armies.

Hitler flew into a rage and took over supreme command. The Germans regrouped and pushed their advance again in 1942. But they never fully recovered. The tide turned at Stalingrad, where the Soviets surrounded 22 German divisions.

About 2.5 million Germans died in Russia. When the Red army finally marched into Berlin in April 1945, about seven million Russians had died in battle or in captivity.

Glenn Plans River Jaunt With Bobby

WASHINGTON (AP)—John H. Glenn Jr., first American to orbit the earth, plans a river raft expedition in Idaho with the family of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y.

The former astronaut, just back from a five-week European tour for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the State Department, said today the arrangements are still a bit indefinite. But he said he understands the party will float down the middle fork of the Salmon River.

Glenn said his wife, Annie, will accompany him to Idaho, but he was not sure about their 19-year-old daughter, Lynn, a student at Mt. Holyoke College in Massachusetts.

Lynn returned with her parents from her first trip to Europe. The Glenns' son, David, is working this summer at Grand Teton National Park, Wyo.

The ski resort at Sun Valley, Idaho, received reservations this week for June 30 for Glenn, Kennedy and his wife, Ethel, and seven of the Kennedys' nine children. The middle fork of the Salmon begins about 50 miles northwest of there and flows 130 miles through some of America's most rugged country.

Moroccan Envoy Teaches How To Eat with Fingers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The waiter placed the hunk of beef in the middle of the low coffee-style table. The guest panicked. No forks, no knives, not even a spoon.

The old hands dug in, a la Arabie.

The music started. Longhairs strummed their steel guitars and the chandeliers shook. The guest looked around: two pairs of pajamas on the dance floor.

In Washington nowadays, one doesn't have to attend night after night of similar banquet hall dinners served in the old formal ways. There are new people on the scene who do things differently.

At the Moroccan Embassy, you dine in the king's beach tent.

Ambassador Dr. Ahmed Laraki and his pretty wife, Badia gave a swinging party for 100 in honor of Ali and Jackie Bengeloun, their predecessors on embassy row.

Cocktails were served indoors, in the striped Moroccan room. Then, musing over a lawn still damp from rain, guests tiptoed outside to a white canvas marquee, said to be the king's weekend beach retreat.

It's ornate, brocaded gold, red and green interior blended into an Arabian Nights atmosphere: low leather cushions around low brass tables, carpets on the lawn, whole roast lambs, wine, burning incense and conversation in French, English and Arabic.

A belly dancer, imported from a local night club, entertained during dessert.

Inside, the Hangmen, a long-haired combo specializing in gyrations, warmed up.

Barbara Howard, blonde socialite friend of Luci Baines Johnson, wore pajamas. So did Yolande B. Fox, the former Miss America from Alabama.

The retiring ambassador of Amuritania, Ahmed-Bab Miske, is an expressive friendly poet.

Miske and his delicate, French-born wife gave a goodbye party in their backyard, Bedouin-style.

Kidney and liver were served hot on long skewers. African music wafted through two authentic striped tents from the Sahara, and guests relaxed sheik-like on low cushions or reclined on Arabian carpets.

"You eat," said the ambassador, "like this." And he pulled apart meat with his fingers, tossing it into his mouth like popcorn.

African and Middle Eastern diplomats may have started a rage of eating with fingers and sitting on the ground — but the Orientals are evening the score.

Chopsticks are being served more and more at dinners, as well as the usual utensils. Several private dinners among Japanese diplomats have included the low tables and cushions.

Doctor's Widow Busy

MIAMI (AP) — The widow of Dr. Gonzalo Arostegui, internationally known Cuban physician, carries on humanitarian work in exile.

Maggie Orr rostegui pushes a "sunshine cart" every Tuesday through Mercy Hospital. It contains reading matter and other things patients may want.

Another day, she sews in the Gesu Roman Catholic Church Spanish Center.

Her husband, who founded the Cuban blood bank in 1942 and later organized the Cuban League Against Cancer, died of cancer in New York in 1963.

The Flag - Then and Now

One hundred and eighty-nine years ago — on June 14, 1777 — the Continental Congress adopted a resolution which was brief, clear and to the point. It read:

"Resolved, that the Flag of the United States be 13 stripes, alternate red and white, and that the Union be 13 stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation."

The 13 stripes of the flag were not new. The Continental Army had been fighting for a year and a half under the "Boston flag" raised by Gen. Washington at Charlestown, Mass., in January, 1776 — a banner with 13 stripes alternating red and white, but with the familiar crosses of St. Andrew and St. George, as in the British Union Jack, in the upper left-hand corner where the stars now are.

The reason for the change obviously was a feeling that soldiers of the new American nation ought not to be fighting under the symbol of the kingdom to which they had renounced allegiance.

The new flag of the United States was raised in battle for the first time at Ft. Stanwix (or Ft. Schuyler), near the present city of Rome, N. Y., on Aug. 2, 1777. This, the first Stars and Stripes of whose fashioning there is contemporary historical record (with all due respect to the pleasant story of Betsy Ross), was strictly a home-made affair.

According to the diary of Col. Marinus Willett, one of the American officers at Stanwix, "the white stripes were cut out of an ammunition shirt; the blue out of the camel cloak taken from the enemy at Peekskill, while the red stripes were made of different pieces of stuff procured from one and another of the garrison."

The American officer fortunate enough to have picked up a camel cloak from the enemy at Peekskill was Capt. Abraham Swartout. As for the "different pieces of stuff procured from one and another of the garrison" for red stripes: Col. Willett was a gallant and reticent officer and gentleman; but legend says that the wife of one of the soldiers sacrificed her red flannel petticoat — and possibly other apparel — to complete that first flag.

The first American flag meant a great deal to the soldiers who raised it. Very soon after the breeze first caught its folds, these soldiers had opportunity to die for that flag. The British attacked on Aug. 3, the day after the flag was raised. The little American garrison stood off assault after assault for 19 days. On Aug. 22, reinforcements arrived and drove the British away.

The American troops who marched to the relief of Ft. Stanwix were led by a brilliant general; but the new flag apparently did not impress him as deeply as it ought to have done. His name was Arnold.

The flag has changed in 189 years. The "new constellation" of 1777 has grown from 13 to 50. The flag has gone to far places — places where the makers of the first flag never dreamed it would go. Does the flag today mean to Americans everywhere all that it meant symbolically to the brave little garrison at Ft. Stanwix in 1777?

We hope the answer is yes.

Warren Pauses for Breath

Can it be that Earl Warren, the Chief Justice of the United States, is a bit appalled by his own handiwork? And, if so, why does he persist in adding to his own mental anguish?

It was just about a month ago that the Chief Justice, addressing the American Law Institute, said he was worried about federalist encroachments on State and local rights and powers. He warned Congress, in what might be called a blanket advisory opinion, against enacting legislation that would alter ancient relationships between Washington, D.C. and the State governments.

Then, a few weeks later, the Chief Justice, in a five-to-four decision written by himself, forged new Constitutional doctrine which could make it more difficult for local police administrations to combat the crime that more and more bedevils our big cities. The Warren decision, based on an extension of the Fifth Amendment's guarantee that no man shall be compelled to incriminate himself makes it illegal for police to question a suspected criminal without first telling him he has a right to remain silent and a right to have his own lawyer present during an attempted interrogation.

I doubt there have been many instances in which local police have violated the Fifth Amendment by using at least the threat of force in extorting confessions. But the Warren decision will make it impossible for police to strike while the emotional iron is hot in cases when a person has been all but caught in a criminal act. It could also work to create stubborn hold-outs even when a suspected criminal is confronted after a sweeping investigation with overwhelming evidence of guilt.

The Chief Justice's belated doubt about the advisability of new legislation promoting the growth of "federalism" is another instance of locking the barn door after the horse has gone. For better or worse, the "Warren Court" has cancelled the Ninth and Tenth Amendments, which left a "non-enumerated" rights and powers to the states or to the individual citizens thereof. There is nothing in the Constitution, for example, that gives the federal government the power to determine the qualification of voters or the pattern of state legislative bodies. There is nothing that says a state shall not enact its own session laws. There is nothing that prohibits a state or a municipality from prescribing voluntary non-denominational prayers for the schools. Yet the "Warren Revolution" has deprived the states and their citizens of the protection of the Ninth and Tenth Amendments in matters bearing on voting qualifications, the control of Communist subversion, and the provision of opportunities for voluntary religious observation in local school districts.

Only in its scholastic desegregation decision of 1954 has the "Warren Revolution" a constitutional base for the changes it has forced in defiance of the spirit of the Ninth and Tenth Amendments. For, while it is perfectly true that the Constitution does not give the Federal government the power to tell the states what they shall do in any positive way about education, the Court can plausibly maintain that any citizen has the right of equal access to any existing institution supported by his taxes. This would mean public schools, parks, municipal bus lines, public swimming pools, and the like.

The worst disservice which the Supreme Court has done, often by narrow five-to-four decisions, is to destroy the meaning of words. The Court's assault on the foundations of communication go back to the — Roosevelt era, which twisted "general welfare" to mean any collection of particular welfares that Congressional majority might approve a long-rolling basis. This perversion of language enables the Federal government to mulet consumers (a "general" category which includes everybody) in order to bestow subsidies on particular groups and individuals. The Interstate Commerce clause has been twisted to cover interference with local business. The Fifth Amendment exemption against self-incrimination has been perverted to serve as a guarantee of tax-supported jobs for college professors who refuse to answer questions about Communist affiliations. This, despite a dissent by three justices who have argued that where the Fifth Amendment might properly serve to keep a man out of jail, it was not designed to qualify people for professorships.

No wonder Earl Warren is worried about the preservation of local responsibility. But it remains to be seen whether he is willing to make any practical amends.

WOULD YOU ever suspect that a few of those grim, unyielding, steely-eyed income tax inspectors actually include a sly sense of humor in their make-up? In proof of this unlikely premise, however, the Revenue Service gives these examples of queries that were mailed in, and the answers given thereto:

Q. My girl is a burlesque stripper. What can she take off as a deduction?

A. All that the law allows. Consult Form 1040. If you girl bought her own costume, or what passes for a costume, she can certainly take it off.

Q. On Form 1040 there are only six lines for dependents. What do I do with my other eight children?

A. Write smaller, give them shorter names, or use an extra blank.

Q. We expect a baby in January. If we name him before December 31, can we claim him on this year's return?

A. Even if you name him after the Commissioner of U.S. Internal Revenue, you can't claim him as an exemption until the moment he is born.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

Is there any way by which young men and women can be protected against the ravages of venereal disease? A few years ago it seemed that these dreadful conditions could be wiped out, but now the newspapers are filled with the terrifying statistics that these diseases are on the increase. Is there a vaccine against syphilis and gonorrhea?

H. G., New Jersey

Dear Mr. G.: The greatest protections against venereal disease are morality and education. Public Health officials and educators have relentlessly bombarded parents and children with the distressing facts that venereal disease is at the highest level in our history.

Religious advisors and schools are supporting physicians in an effort to protect the adolescent and adult from these diseases which often leave permanent effects on their entire lives.

The antibiotics and the sulfa drugs can only be considered as being moderately protective when they are taken within a few hours after exposure.

A false sense of security because of these drugs, has led to more frequent, indiscriminate exposure to the possibility of disease. Some types of the germ that causes gonorrhea have become resistant to drugs and are unaffected by them.

Many diseases produce an immunity within the body so that reinfection does not occur. This is typical of small pox, measles and mumps. A single attack of gonorrhea, however, does not produce immunity against it.

There is said to be some immunity against syphilis but the protective aspects of the body's defenses cannot be relied on during many exposures.

There is no vaccine against syphilis or gonorrhea that will confer immunity.

The casual attitude of adolescents is reflected in the totally false statement that "gonorrhea is just like a cold and that syphilis can disappear by itself."

This is monumental ignorance of the devastation that can be caused by venereal disease. Gonorrhea in women can cause disease of their Fallopian tubes and prevent the from ever giving birth to children.

Gonorrheal arthritis can leave permanent damage to the joints. Syphilis that "goes away by itself" refers to the open sore which may heal and thereby disguise the fact that syphilis is running rampant within the body.

There must be no letup by parents and educators against the catastrophe of venereal disease.

Actor Prefers 'Dangerous' Life

NEW YORK (AP) — Burt Lancaster, the millionaire movie actor, zestfully polished off a luncheon order of six cherry-stone clams — which were three clams more than he used to earn a week as a circus acrobat.

"I had a happy childhood here — four kids living in a walkup, coldwater railroad flat in East Harlem," he said. "I often doubt if my own kids have as much fun as I did."

"We used to like to play stickball in the streets. Eight times I was knocked down or run over by cars."

The big, handsome film star, who at 52 still looks fit enough to play halfback on a pro football team, rubbed his side remorselessly.

"It was bright, exciting and dangerous — but all life is, or should be. I don't believe you can create a Utopian society built on total safety. You have to take your chances."

Taking a chance has been a key part of the Lancaster credo ever since he quit college after his sophomore year to see the world while doing backflips and somersaults for a circus.

He also served three years as a GI, and worked as a road laborer, boiler stoker, singing waiter, and department store floorwalker in the lingerie section.

With only an Army good conduct ribbon and three weeks' experience on Broadway, Burt crashed Hollywood literally. In six months he was making $100,000 a year, now gets $750,000 and more a picture.

Most of his 40 films have rung merry tunes on the cash register. But one the critics liked best, "Sweet Smell of Success," a realistic study of the seamy side of night life in Manhattan, proved a clinker at the box office.

In an industry that can be as boring and ego-frustrating as running on a treadmill, Burt still has the happy enthusiasm patrol.

"There is no substitute for curiosity in life," he said. "It is in retreating from life that you are most likely to destroy yourself."

"When you lapse into yourself, you lapse into darkness. The only dangerous thing is to lose your enthusiasm. You have to be involved in life to really discover yourself — even wounds as well as your greatest joys."

NEW YORK (AP) — If your diet has been running strongly to pork, poultry, eggs, cucumbers and green peppers, your pocketbook should be fatter. But if you have taken on a new mortgage, needed some house repairs, and made more trips to the doctor, dentist or hospital, as well as to the barber or beauty stop, your pocketbook probably is flatter than ever.

That is what the average citizen is likely to get out of a study of the latest report on the government's consumer price index. Prices of the foods named declined so much in May that the drop almost offset the rise in the services named, along with higher costs for any new furniture, women's clothing or cigarettes you may have bought.

Many a citizen may have been unaware of this breathing spell in the rapid race toward a higher cost of living.

But to statistics-conscious Washington, the bend in the index chart of the Labor Department's consumer price index is welcomed as another sign that in May, at least, the inflationary forces that were storming ahead early in the year were being brought into line.

The drop in some food prices was due to the weather, when the growing season arrived.

Both farmers and food processors have been sensitive of late to complaints about rising prices. The farmer points at the relatively small percentage of the retail price tag that he gets for his efforts. The food processors point to the rising costs of preparing, transporting and retailing food, and say their profits are comparatively small.

The shopper just pays and wonders. But the Federal Reserve Bank in Dallas has been studying the spread in price. It says that the labor portion of the food marketing bill was about 45 per cent of the total, to almost $22 billion, in 1964.

These were latest figures available from the Department of Agriculture.

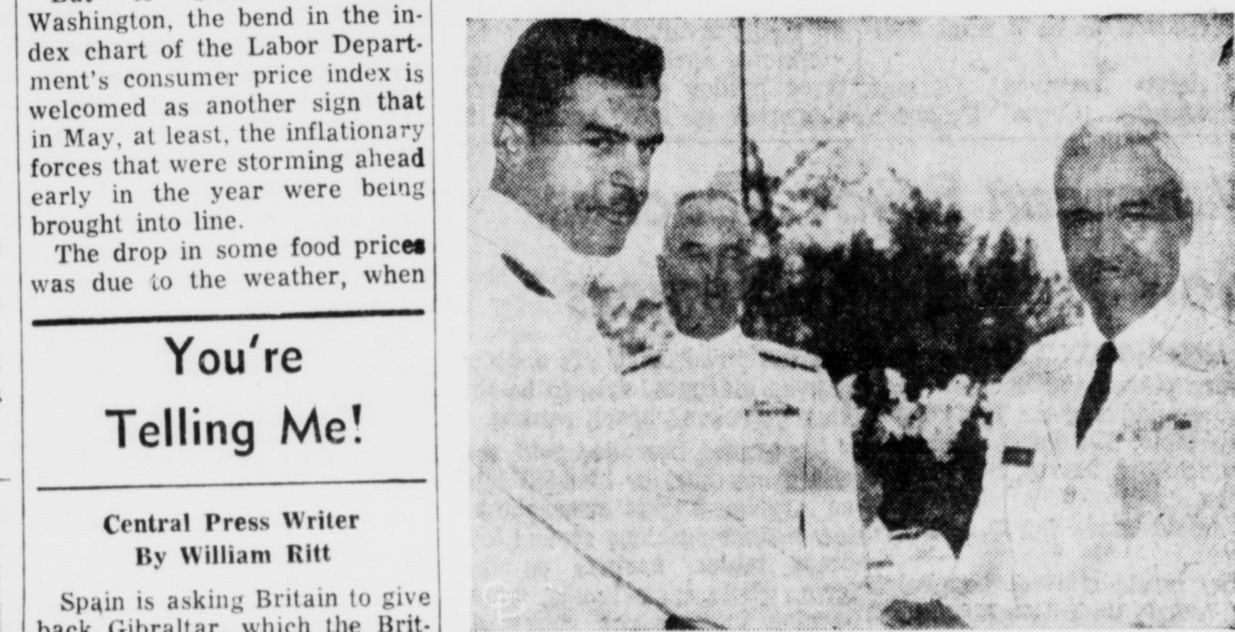

From all indications the total bill has risen since but the bank says the labor cost as a percentage has held fairly stable over recent years.

The number of workers engaged in food processing and marketing has grown to nearly nine million. The bank says the growth is due to the steady rise in the volume of products marketed, the increase in services available per unit, and a cut in average hours worked.

In the last 10 years marketing costs have increased 43 per cent, while raw food costs have risen 31 per cent. The bank says the spread between farm and retail prices has increased because of additional services involved and now demanded.

It says: "The conveniently packaged, highly standardized, and almost completely prepared commodity on display is the end-product of a fat-changing food industry that sells much more than food with each unit."

That may not make your food bill any more pleasant to pay, but that's how the industry explains higher prices.

State's Banking Practices Hit

Annual Exams Said Required

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio is failing in its legal obligation to examine its state banks every year, a legislative committee studying banking laws was told Thursday.

A Legislative Service Commission report prepared for the joint Senate-House committee showed that state examiners examined only 80 per cent of all state banks in 1963, 62 per cent in 1964 and 70 per cent last year.

The report pictured growth of the banking industry, expanded banking services and a shortage of state examiners as major reasons for the lag.

Another report indicated that examiners of the Ohio Division of Banks carry heavier work loads than examiners in other states.

Ohio examiners, it said, generally are responsible for 24 banks each, while the median in other states is 13. Total assets of banks assigned to each Ohio examiner totaled $227 million, compared to a median of $79 million in other states.

The committee was set up by the last legislature to study Ohio banking laws — virtually unchanged for 30 years — and report possible changes to the next General Assembly, convening next January.

The issue of state banks voting shares of their own stocks held in trust, contended by some of the legislators and several witnesses to be a common practice in Ohio banks, was not discussed at Thursday's session. The controversial issue had predominated the discussion previously.

Ohio May Close Third Of Its TB Hospitals

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A third of Ohio's tuberculosis hospitals may be forced out of operation by a new state law.

The intent of the new law is to regionalize tuberculosis hospitals to save money and improve services by combining facilities.

The final decision on which hospitals remain in operation rests with State Health Director Emmett Arnold.

His decision is expected late next month.

The decision is expected to be that only about 12 of the 18 hospitals now operating will be approved to continue to get state subsidies. Without those payments, operating costs would be so high that hospitals probably could not continue.

The smaller hospitals are expected to be the ones passed over in any regional realignment.

Any change will not affect the two TB hospitals operated by the State Health Department in Columbus and Nelsonville.

Nor would it affect Springview Hospital in Springfield, operated by the Mental Hygiene Department for patients with both tuberculosis and mental disorders.

The regional program would affect the two private TB hospitals and 16 county-support hospitals.

The new law does not require closing of any hospitals. Nor does it specifically require reducing the number of approved tuberculosis hospitals on a regional basis. But regionalization "was the intent of the legislature," said Dr. Walter Evans, chief of the health department's tuberculosis division.

Behind the law is a declining need for specialized facilities for patients with the lung ailment. Ohio hospitals now have 2,400 beds for tuberculosis patients. But only 1,300 to 1,400 of these are occupied each month.

Regionalizing tuberculosis facilities could clear these 1,000 empty hospital beds for other uses in a time when, Evans said, "there is a screaming need for hospital beds of any kind."

Youth, 16, Is Elected Precinct Aide

NAPERVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Bruce Buvalda gets out the vote in Lisle Township's 12th Precinct, but Bruce isn't old enough to vote.

He says he's probably the only 16-year-old in the country selected at the polls as a Democratic precinct captain. In Illinois' June 14 primary he beat the incumbent.

"I had eight votes and the other man had only three," Bruce said Thursday.

Apparently, however, the office will be denied him because of an age requirement.

For Bruce, a 6-foot-2, 200-pounder going into his senior year at Naperville Community High School, the election was the first stage of a political career he hopes will land him in Congress by 1980.

"I have the whole thing written out," he said.

Bruce's parents are both Republicans.

Lieutenant Governor's Role Studied

CLEVELAND (AP)—Should a lieutenant governor be in the executive or legislative branch—or a little of both?

That was the question featured in the opening session of the National Conference of Lieutenant Governors Thursday when the keynote address was made by Dr. Harvey Walker, political science professor at Ohio State University.

Dr. Walker said lieutenant governors should become full-time administrators in the executive branch with specific duties such as serving on state boards, making recommendations to the governor on clemency and reporting to the governor on the operation of the state department.

The professor won some support for his idea from the 18 lieutenant governors and two state senate presidents attending the conference.

Regionalizing tuberculosis facilities could clear these 1,000 empty hospital beds for other uses in a time when, Evans said, "there is a screaming need for hospital beds of any kind."

The new law increases the state subsidy for tuberculosis care from $2.50 to $5 per patient per day. It requires Dr. Arnold as health director to designate what hospitals are eligible to receive this higher subsidy.

He could designate all 18 now operating, but advisors in the department have said that 12 regional hospitals could provide all the tuberculosis beds Ohio now needs, plus extra space to handle any sudden emergency like an epidemic.

Hospitals denied authorization for subsidies can continue to operate providing county commissioners or private operators are willing to bear the full costs. The expectation is that smaller hospitals denied subsidies will be converted to other uses.

The non-public TB institutions are a Catholic Hospital at Green Springs and a private one in McConnelsville.

Two of the county-supported hospitals are in Cuyahoga County. The others are in Akron, Amherst, Canton, Chillicothe, Cincinnati, Columbus, Dayton, Hamilton, Lima, Mansfield, Newark, Toledo, Warren and Youngstown.

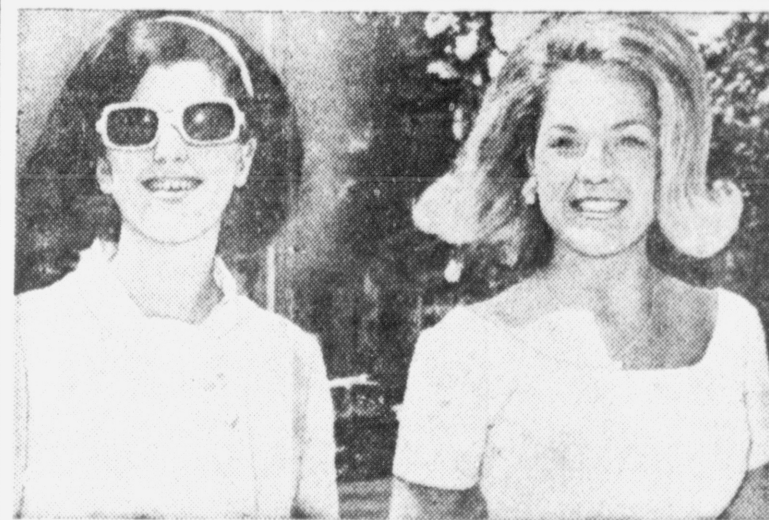

The Chillicothe and Lima hospitals are district ventures operated jointly by several counties.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Logic No Good in Affair of Heart

DEAR ABBY: My mother and brother and I live in a little 2-room apartment. There is hardly room to breathe and I know we can afford better but my mother refuses to move because Ellis lives downstairs. Ellis is divorced and has five kids to support. Mother is divorced, too. Ellis is sort of a ladies' man who needs lots of watching. My father was a man like that, so I can't understand why mother would want to make the same mistake twice. When I try to tell mother we need a bigger apartment she says we can't move because she has to keep her eye on Ellis. How can a 13-year-old girl get her 33-year-old mother to be logical?

THE DAUGHTER

DEAR ABBY: She can't. So don't try. All logic is useless against "love" and a toothache. So quit nagging your mother. A divorcee with two children who has to keep her eye on a boy friend with five kids to support has enough trouble as it is.

DEAR ABBY: I have a sister who is either the most thoughtless person in the world or she's selfish to the core. I have four small children and she has one. Every day she brings her little girl to my house so she will have someone to play with. Then my sister is free as a bird to go shopping or do what ever she pleases. She told me one day that she slept all afternoon. This burns me up because it's not easy for me to do my work and watch all the kids. She says, "As long as you have to stay home and watch your own, it's no harder to watch mine, too." She never asks me to bring my kids to her house so her daughter would have someone to play with. What should I do? I'm sick of — BEING USED

DEAR BEING: Tell your sister you are taking turns and you are bringing your kids to HER house because as long as SHE has to stay home and watch her own, it's no more trouble to watch them all.

DEAR ABBY: My husband, who is 62, refuses to grow up. When the two of us are alone he is babyish. If he doesn't get his own way he lies down on the floor and screams and kicks. He was in the middle of one of these kicking fits once when the door bell rang. He got up and went to the door like a gentleman. As soon as the people were out of sight, he laid down on the floor again and resumed his kicking and

Miss Schneider Becomes Bride of Mr. Whetstone

MRS. TERRY ALLEN WHETSTONE

Miss Janet Louise Schneider, daughter of Mrs. Herman Hines, Route 4, and the late John F. Schneider, and Mr. Terry Allen Whetstone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Whetstone (retired USAF), 1001 Lake Ave., New Carlisle, O., exchanged wedding vows 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in Hedges Chapel Methodist Church, Ashville.

Rev. William Sherertz performed the double ring ceremony. Pre-nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Gail Wolfe Jr., organist.

Given in marriage by her step-father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of nylon lace over taffeta with a rounded neckline and long pointed sleeves. The empire waistline was accented with a band of taffeta ending in a bow at the center of the back. Her illusion veil was caught to a crystal and pearl tiara. The bride's gown was made by the bride and her mother. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a colonial type nosegay of white carnations and net with ribbon streamers.

Mrs. Debbie Whetstone, sister of the bridegroom, was the maid of honor. She wore a delicate pink floor-length gown, featuring an empire bodice and a satin band at the waistline with a sheath skirt of chiffon over taffeta, caught with tiny pearls. Her matching headpiece was a dior bow with a bouffant veil. She carried a nosegay of deep pink carnations.

Roger Schneider, brother of the bride, served as the best man. Ushers were Jerry Whetstone, brother of the groom, and Steve Hines. The ring bearer was Johnny Schneider, nephew of the bride.

The bride's mother was attired in a powder sheath dress, with a silver metallic weave, matching blue hat, and beige accessories. She wore a corsage of delicate pink carnations.

The bridegroom's mother wore a blue linen sheath dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

A reception was held in the church basement immediately following the ceremony. The bride's table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake, encircled with white ruffled lace

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Logic No Good in Affair of Heart

DEAR ABBY: My mother and brother and I live in a little 2-room apartment. There is hardly room to breathe and I know we can afford better but my mother refuses to move because Ellis lives downstairs. Ellis is divorced and has five kids to support. Mother is divorced, too. Ellis is sort of a ladies' man who needs lots of watching. My father was a man like that, so I can't understand why mother would want to make the same mistake twice. When I try to tell mother we need a bigger apartment she says we can't move because she has to keep her eye on Ellis. How can a 13-year-old girl get her 33-year-old mother to be logical?

THE DAUGHTER
DEAR DAUGHTER: She can't. So don't try. All logic is useless against "love" and a toothache. So quit nagging your mother. A divorcee with two children who has to keep her eye on a boy friend with five kids to support has enough trouble as it is.

DEAR ABBY: I have a sister who is either the most thoughtless person in the world or she's selfish to the core. I have four small children and she has one. Every day she brings her little girl to my house so she will have someone to play with. Then my sister is free as a bird to go shopping or do whatever she pleases. She told me one day that she slept all afternoon. This burns me up because it's not easy for me to do my work and watch all the kids. She says, "As long as you have to stay home and watch your own, it's no harder to watch mine, too." She never asks me to bring my kids to her house so her daughter would have someone to play with. What should I do? I'm sick of —

BEING USED
DEAR BEING: Tell your sister you are taking turns and you are bringing your kids to her house because as long as SHE has to stay home and watch her own, it's no more trouble to watch them all.

DEAR ABBY: My husband, who is 62, refuses to grow up. When the two of us are alone he is babyish. If he doesn't get his own way he lies down on the floor and screams and kicks. He was in the middle of one of these kicking fits once when the door bell rang. He got up and went to the door like a gentleman. As soon as the people were out of sight, he laid down on the floor again and resumed his kicking and screaming fit. I am completely dominated by him, yet people are always telling me what a nice husband I have. I have no money of my own, no job and am 54 years old, so I can't leave him. What do you suggest? He's getting worse.

NO PEACE
DEAR NO PEACE: Your husband is a very sick man. Tell your family doctor about these fits and let him advise you.

SUMMER CAMP BUS SMASHED BY TRAIN—Wreckage of a summer camp bus hit by a train is piled onto a flatbed truck at Dwight, Ill. Thirty-nine persons were injured, none fatally. The bus, carrying children to summer camp, was split open and caught fire after being dragged 870 feet west of the crossing.

News of World in Brief

NOVOSIBIRSK, U.S.S.R. — President Charles de Gaulle of France visited the Soviet Union's prize scientific research center here today and called for joint French-Soviet efforts toward scientific progress and world peace.

Speaking at the science town normally off limits to foreigners, De Gaulle declared:

"Let Soviet and French science join efforts to promote man's progress while Russia and France join for the benefit of world peace."

BONN, Germany (AP) — The West German government is trying to reach a temporary agreement with France to keep French troops in Germany after they are withdrawn from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization on July 1, an authoritative official source reports.

The week remaining is too short a time to reach a permanent accord on the status of the 72,000 French troops in Germany, the official said. The temporary agreement would at least make it clear that the troops are here as allies and not as victors of World War II.

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — The Greek Cypriot government today lifted a three-day blockade of the Turkish sector of Nicosia which had prevented the majority of the Turkish population from getting to work through Greek-controlled areas.

The blockade was imposed Tuesday after a bomb exploded in the Greek sector of the city.

The Turkish Cypriot leadership denied that Turkish Cypriots were responsible for the bomb explosion and asked the U.N. peace force headquarters to have the "inhuman blockade of Nicosia" lifted.

Diplomatic sources reported that Greek Cypriot President Archbishop Makarios lifted the blockade because of a plea by U.N. Secretary-General U Thant.

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command confirmed today that Capt. William S. Carpenter Jr., a paratrooper hero of the Kontum Plateau battle, will become an aide to Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander on U.S. forces in Viet Nam. It means switching from field duty to a staff job.

Carpenter, 28, distinguished himself June 9 by calling in a napalm air strike and artillery fire on the position of his company of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division to prevent it from being annihilated by infiltrating North Vietnamese regulars.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Petar Rajtic, 6, can walk with crutches and braces, thanks to international cooperation and the Kennedy Rehabilitation Institute in Minneapolis.

Petar, stricken with polio when he was 18 months old, arrived in the United States paralyzed 13 months ago.

His aunt, Mrs. Dragica Milecic of Zagreb, Yugoslavia, persuaded the Yugoslav government to pay travel costs to Minneapolis for Petar and his father, Pavele Rajtic, a school teacher at Pula, Yugoslavia.

After surgery and long months of therapy, Petar is going home next week. In addition to the ability to walk, he's taking home a knowledge of English, a Batman T-shirt, a Notre Dame sweater and a Minneapolis Twins baseball cap.

BOSTON (AP) — Luci Baines Johnson, the President's youngest daughter, may upstage the neighbors when she visits Boston Saturday to attend a meeting of the auxiliary of the American Optometric Association at the Sheraton Boston Hotel.

Gathered in the adjacent War Memorial Auditorium will be the Massachusetts Republican convention.

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Aslan Palombo, 23, of Bathym, Israel, is a big man at Emory University in Atlanta. But he's there to get smaller.

Palombo, 5-11, weighs 500 pounds. The university's clinical research unit has him on a diet of 300 calories a day and is studying his small intestine.

"I am using people who want to lose weight to see what happens to the small intestine while fasting," said Dr. James Achord, assistant professor of medicine at the clinic. "Several hundred people have been through, but he is the heaviest we've had."

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — The honeymoon of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McConnell of St. Louis was slightly delayed, because police and firemen had to free the bridegroom from his ball and chain.

McConnell, 22, told police Thursday a friend had handcuffed the bowling ball and chain to his wrist after the wedding reception.

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Plans for a school for the mentally retarded have been announced by the director of Boys Town, the heaven for homeless boys near Omaha, Neb.

Msgr. Nicholas H. Wegner said Thursday an establishment with a cost of perhaps $10 million is envisioned on a 240-acre site north and west of the main campus of Boys Town, west of Omaha.

I Have Too . . .

(Continued from Page 1) go public relations firm and a registered agent for West German interests. The committee is investigating Dodd's relations with him, including an allegation that Dodd made the 1964 trip to West Germany to help Klein keep his clients satisfied.

Most of the testimony has dealt with whether Dodd's trip was made to help Klein hang onto his firm's clients there or, as Dodd maintains, to conduct an investigation for the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee. He claims he was to look into alleged Soviet terror tactics.

Mrs. Carpenter told the committee that after the senator's trip to Germany she heard two of the senator's aides, Martin and Zeiler, speculate that Klein must have paid Dodd.

Martin and Zeiler took the witness chair in the crowded hearing room moments later and swore that the testimony of the blonde 28-year-old divorcee was false. They testified no such conversation ever took place.

Before Mrs. Carpenter was excused as a witness, Sonnett questioned her about her marital affairs and her relationship with James P. Boyd Jr., Dodd's former administrative assistant.

Boyd earlier had testified that he and Mrs. Carpenter had removed thousands of documents from Dodd's files and turned them over to columnists Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson, who wrote a series of articles based on the information. He said they felt this was the only way they could expose what they regarded as the senator's misconduct.

Young Negro Boy Shot in Cleveland Fuss

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The summer calm in an East Side neighborhood was shattered by violence Thursday night as a young Negro boy was shot and wounded, a white woman was injured by a thrown brick, and shots were fired at two policemen.

Several businesses operated by white men were looted and vandalized.

It was the second night of trouble in the area but police said the situation was brought under control quickly.

The violence erupted along a section of Superior Avenue where Negro and white neighborhoods come together.

Earl Stapler, 30, a Negro, told a newsman, "We want all the white businessmen out of this area, and you can quote me on that. If we can't go into Sowinski Park, then they can't come over here."

The Sowinski area has been a trouble spot before. Racial disturbances broke out there three years ago after a 15-year-old white girl was attacked by a group of Negro youths in the park.

The wounded boy, 9-year-old Stephen Griffin, was reported in fair condition at Mt. Sinai Hospital with a bullet wound in the lower abdomen. His brother, Richard, 16, said a white man fired the shot from a passing convertible.

Police Chief Richard Wagner said the Griffin boy told police he had joined a group of boys who were throwing stones at cars. The shot was fired by a man whose car was being stoned, police said.

Two patrolmen said they were fired on by two men across the street as they drove up in front of a grocery, where a smoke bomb had been thrown through the window. The men who fired on them fled on foot, the officers said.

Vandals tossed canned goods and watermelons out of the store into the street.

'Virginia Woolf' Produced In Defiance of Film Code

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Edward Albee's study of faculty life at a small college, "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" had its world premier at the Hollywood Pantages before one of the most stellar audiences in recent times.

Everyone wanted to see if the movie proved as good as the advance notice. It did. Seldom has such searing drama, laced with outrageous comedy, been viewed on a movie screen.

As of now, the film is the front-runner for the 1966 Oscars in all departments. Elizabeth Taylor abandons all glamor to play a blowy, bawling haridan with utter conviction. Richard Burton for the first time registers as a screen actor rather than as a stage performer working at films.

Sandy Dennis and George Segal are superb as the young couple who stumble into the wild, drunken night. The screenplay of Ernest Lehman, who also produced, curbs most of the excess wordiness of the play. And Mike Nichols makes the most impressive debut as a director since Orson Welles filmed "Citizen Kane."

The film was made in defiance of large portions of the film industry's self-censorship code. The beleaguered code administrator, Geoffrey Shurlock, denied the film a seal because of its obvious infractions. He thrown through the window of a car in which she and her husband were driving. She was taken to a hospital for -rays.

Gachko, a machine operator, said the brick came from a group of Negro teen-agers who were standing near an intersection.

Gachko said the youths yelled, "We want freedom."

"It's getting so bad I don't feel safe without a shotgun in the car," he said.

At least a dozen store windows were reported smashed. Police rushed eight cars carrying helmeted officers into the area.

was overruled by a court of last resort — the company presidents.

The film will doubtless shock rather than entertain some Americans. In his speech to the film industry this week, Jack Valenti, the new president of the producers association, promised yet another revision of the code. Does this portend a flood of films even more profane and explicit than "Virginia Woolf"? Can they be made with the same artistry of the Burtons, et al?

These are problems now facing Mr. Valenti, late of the White House.

20 Clerics Join March For Welfare

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP) — Twenty Methodist ministers from the North-East Ohio Conference at Lakeside joined the "Walk for Decent Welfare" Thursday for the last three miles into Wooster.

Delegates to the annual conference have voted support for the march, and the ministers showed their support by walking from Madisonburg in Wayne County to Wooster before returning to Lakeside.

A cross-burning in the parking lot of the Jackson Presbyterian Church where the marchers slept Wednesday night, amused rather than frightened them, they said.

The march left the Wayne County farming community of Jackson at 8 a.m. Thursday and walked another 11 miles of their 155-mile trek from Cleveland to Columbus.

The group reached Wooster by mid-afternoon where marchers went to private homes for food and lodging.

The ten-day march began Monday and will end June 30 at the Statehouse steps in Columbus.

Emotionally Disturbed Slated To Go to College

BELMONT, Mass. (AP) — A school for pupils from a hospital for the emotionally disturbed is sending more than half its graduates on to college, where they hope to match the records of last year's seniors.

It is the Arlington School, on the grounds of McLean Hospital, a division of the Massachusetts General Hospital.

Dr. Francis de Marneffe called the school "one of the most successful ventures ever undertaken by the hospital" in his commencement address Thursday.

He is director of the hospital, where the experiment in the education of the emotionally disturbed started five years ago. Since then, 25 of the 75 graduates have gone to college.

All eleven seniors graduated Thursday, and seven of them look forward to college careers. Of the same number who went on last year, six of them posted averages of "C" or better.

Headmaster John F. Dunn

believes the school is the only one of its type in the country — a college preparatory course with regular teachers and structured classes, operating in a hospital.

Dunn said he has agreed not to disclose the names of the colleges which have accepted the students.

The emphasis is on education, in an island of normalcy, Dunn says, "and while we are happy if therapy occurs, our emphasis is on learning."

Housed in the ten-room home of a wealthy former patient, the school got started with $20,000 in hospital funds and a matching grant from the Ford Foundation.

There are six full-time teachers, average age 26, who are "doers, Peace Corps types," Dunn said.

"They are not trained in therapy, and do not manipulate the students, but concentrate on teaching."

There are 35 regular students and 10 who are tutored.

Staff Readied For Head Start

Directors of the Pickaway County Community Action Organization Inc., met last night for a brief session at the high school.

Mrs. William Huber, director, reported to the board that a complete staff had been readied for the upcoming Head Start Program of preschool education and enrichment.

She noted that the program would be in full effect here beginning July 5 and continuing through Aug. 26.

Mrs. Huber reported that there is still a need for volunteer teaching aides. She said workers are needed who are particularly interested in arts crafts and story telling.

THE director said that a tutorial program had been submitted June 3, for educational retarded sixth and seventh graders. A grant of $11,244 has been requested for this project.

An extension of the program development grant has also been requested by official action of the directors. Should the grant be authorized, an additional $10,000 would be available for the county area.

Head Start classes will be held at the S. Court St. School, Pickaway Twp., Ashville and Willi a m s p o r t Elementary Schools.

Gachko said the youths yelled, "We want freedom."

"It's getting so bad I don't feel safe without a shotgun in the car," he said.

At least a dozen store windows were reported smashed. Police rushed eight cars carrying helmeted officers into the area.

was overruled by a court of last resort — the company president.

The film will doubtless shock rather than entertain some Americans.

In his speech to the film industry this week, Jack Valenti, the new president of the producers association, promised yet another revision of the code. Does this portend a flood of films even more profane and explicit than "Virginia Woolf"? Can they be made with the same artistry of the Burtons, et al?

These are problems now facing Mr. Valenti, late of the White House.

20 Clerics Join March For Welfare

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP) — Twenty Methodist ministers from the North-East Ohio Conference at Lakeside joined the "Walk for Decent Welfare" Thursday for the last three miles into Wooster.

Delegates to the annual conference have voted support for the march, and the ministers showed their support by walking from Madisonburg in Wayne County to Wooster before returning to Lakeside.

A cross-burning in the parking lot of the Jackson Presbyterian Church where the marchers slept Wednesday night, amused rather than frightened them, they said.

The march left the Wayne County farming community of Jackson at 8 a.m. Thursday and walked another 11 miles of their 155-mile trek from Cleveland to Columbus.

The group reached Wooster by mid-afternoon where marchers went to private homes for food and lodging.

The ten-day march began Monday and will end June 30 at the Statehouse steps in Columbus.

Emotionally Disturbed Slated To Go to College

BELMONT, Mass. (AP) — A school for pupils from a hospital for the emotionally disturbed is sending more than half its graduates on to college, where they hope to match the records of last year's seniors.

It is the Arlington School, on the grounds of McLean Hospital, a division of the Massachusetts General Hospital.

Dr. Francis de Marneffe called the school "one of the most successful ventures ever undertaken by the hospital" in his commencement address Thursday.

He is director of the hospital, where the experiment in the education of the emotionally disturbed started five years ago. Since then, 25 of the 75 graduates have gone to college.

All eleven seniors graduated Thursday, and seven of them look forward to college careers. Of the same number who went on last year, six of them posted averages of "C" or better.

Headmaster John F. Dunn

believes the school is the only one of its type in the country — a college preparatory course with regular teachers and structured classes, operating in a hospital.

Dunn said he has agreed not to disclose the names of the colleges which have accepted the students.

The emphasis is on education in an island of normalcy. Dunn says, "and while we are happy if therapy occurs, our emphasis is on learning."

Housed in the ten-room home of a wealthy former patient, the school got started with $20,000 in hospital funds and a matching grant from the Ford Foundation.

There are six full-time teachers, average age 26, who are "doers, Peace Corps types," Dunn said.

"They are not trained in therapy, and do not manipulate the students, but concentrate on teaching."

There are 35 regular students and 10 who are tutored.

News of World in Brief

NOVOSIBIRSK, U.S.S.R. (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle of France visited the Soviet Union's prize scientific research center here today and called for joint French-Soviet efforts toward scientific progress and world peace.

Speaking at the science town normally off limits to foreigners, De Gaulle declared:

"Let Soviet and French science join efforts to promote man's progress while Russia and France join for the benefit of world peace."

BONN, Germany (AP) — The West German government is trying to reach a temporary agreement with France to keep French troops in Germany after they are withdrawn from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization on July 1, an authoritative official source reports.

The week remaining is too short a time to reach a permanent accord on the status of the 72,000 French troops in Germany, the official said. The temporary agreement would at least make it clear that the troops are here as allies and not as victors of World War II.

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — The Greek Cypriot government today lifted a three-day blockade of the Turkish sector of Nicosia which had prevented the majority of the Turkish population from getting to work through Greek-controlled areas.

The blockade was imposed Tuesday after a bomb exploded in the Greek sector of the city.

The Turkish Cypriot leadership denied that Turkish Cypriots were responsible for the bomb explosion and asked the U.N. peace force headquarters to have the "inhuman blockade of Nicosia" lifted.

Diplomatic sources reported that Greek Cypriot President Archbishop Makarios lifted the blockade because of a plea by U.N. Secretary-General U Thant.

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command confirmed today that Capt. William S. Carpenter Jr., a paratrooper hero of the Kontum Plateau battle, will become an aide to Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander on U.S. forces in Viet Nam. It means switching from field duty to a staff job.

Carpenter, 28, distinguished himself June 9 by calling in a napalm air strike and artillery fire on the position of his company of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division to prevent it from being annihilated by infiltrating North Vietnamese regulars.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Petar Rajtic, 6, can walk with crutches and braces, thanks to international cooperation and the Kennedy Rehabilitation Institute in Minneapolis.

Petar, stricken with polio when he was 18 months old, arrived in the United States paralyzed 13 months ago.

His aunt, Mrs. Dragica Milec of Zagreb, Yugoslavia, persuaded the Yugoslav government to pay travel costs to Minneapolis for Petar and his father, Pavele Rajtic, a school teacher at Pula, Yugoslavia.

After surgery and long months of therapy, Petar is going home next week. In addition to the ability to walk, he's taking home a knowledge of English, a Batman T-shirt, a Notre Dame sweater and a Minneapolis Twins baseball cap.

BOSTON (AP) — Luci Baines Johnson, the President's younger daughter, may upstage the neighbors when she visits Boston Saturday to attend a meeting of the auxiliary of the American Optometric Association at the Sheraton Boston Hotel.

Gathered in the adjacent War Memorial Auditorium will be the Massachusetts Republican convention.

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Aslan Palombo, 23, of Bathym, Israel, is a big man at Emory University in Atlanta. But he's there to get smaller.

Palombo, 5-11, weighs 500 pounds. The university's clinical research unit has him on a diet of 300 calories a day and is studying his small intestine.

"I am using people who want to lose weight to see what happens to the small intestine while fasting," said Dr. James Achord, assistant professor of medicine at the clinic. "Several hundred people have been through, but he is the heaviest we've had."

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — The honeymoon of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McConnell of St. Louis was slightly delayed, because police and firemen had to free the bridegroom from his ball and chain.

McConnell, 22, told police Thursday a friend had handcuffed the bowling ball and chain to his wrist after the wedding reception.

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Plans for a school for the mentally retarded have been announced by the director of Boys Town, the heaven for homeless boys near Omaha, Neb.

Msgr. Nicholas H. Wegner said Thursday an establishment with a cost of perhaps $10 million is envisioned on a 240-acre site north and west of the main campus of Boys Town, west of Omaha.

go public relations firm and a registered agent for West German interests. The committee is investigating Dodd's relations with him, including an allegation that Dodd made the 1964 trip to West Germany to help Klein keep his clients satisfied.

Most of the testimony has dealt with whether Dodd's trip was made to help Klein hang onto his firm's clients there or, as Dodd maintains, to conduct an investigation for the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee. He claims he was to look into alleged Soviet terror tactics.

Mrs. Carpenter told the committee that after the senator's trip to Germany she heard two of the senator's aides, Martin and Zeiller, speculate that Klein must have paid Dodd.

Martin and Zeiller took the witness chair in the crowded hearing room moments later and swore that the testimony of the blonde 28-year-old divorcee was false. They testified no such conversation ever took place.

Before Mrs. Carpenter was excused as a witness, Sonnett questioned her about her marital affairs and her relationship with James P. Boyd Jr., Dodd's former administrative assistant.

Boyd earlier had testified that he and Mrs. Carpenter had removed thousands of documents from Dodd's files and turned them over to columnists Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson, who wrote a series of articles based on the information. He said they felt this was the only way they could expose what they regarded as the senator's misconduct.

North Ireland Still Takes Its Religion Very Seriously

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Religious strife may pose security problems when Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip visit Northern Ireland next month.

Belfast remains a sectarian city in an ecumenical age. It takes religion seriously and its religious and political tensions are closely interwoven.

Protestant extremists have threatened the queen's hosts—Lord Erskin, governor of Northern Ireland, and his wife.

They are angry that the governor vetoed their plan to name a new bridge, which the queen will open, for the late Lord Carson, Ulster's patriot Protestant hero. The bridge, the governor ruled firmly, will be called the Queen Elizabeth Bridge.

The Rev. Ian Paisley, leader of a militant sect called Free Presbyterians, says he will lead a march on the governor's residence July 2—two days before the queen arrives in Ireland. Paisley protests he is loyal to the queen but says he fears a takeover by the Roman Catholic Church in Northern Ireland. When the Archbishop of Canterbury went to Rome this spring for his historic meeting with Pope Paul VI, Paisley led a small but noisy opposition.

In Northern Ireland, about two-thirds of the population is Protestant, mainly Presbyterian or Church of Ireland—Anglican; and one-third Roman Catholic. The Republic, to its south, is 95 per cent Catholic.

Northern Ireland probably is the only place left in the British Isles where being a Catholic or a Protestant can affect a person's whole life—where he lives, the kind of money he earns, the firm which is willing to employ him and the kind of job he can do.

Some Protestant firms will not employ Catholics at all. Others will give them only menial jobs. The Protestant Orange-men's lodges, set up to fight Roman Catholic influence, are still strong both in Parliament and Belfast City Hall. The slightest move may stir them to indignation and they can turn out thousands on the streets.

One difficulty is that religion is so closely bound with politics and business. The Unionist, conservative, party, which has long run the local government and sent 12 members to the London House of Commons, is an almost exclusively Protestant machine. Only in the last general election did one Belfast Roman Catholic gain a seat at Westminster.

OF tennis AND religion

It happened on the very first point as everyone knew it would. The champ was testing the challenger's backhand.

Champs are like that. Right from the start they probe for some flaw in the opponent's game. And when they find it — look out!

Life is just as probing and relentless. Quickly it uncovers our weaknesses . . . then assaults them again and again.

Is that why men go to church? It's one of the reasons!

Victories never come with glorying in our uncertain strength. They come with doing something about our proven weaknesses.

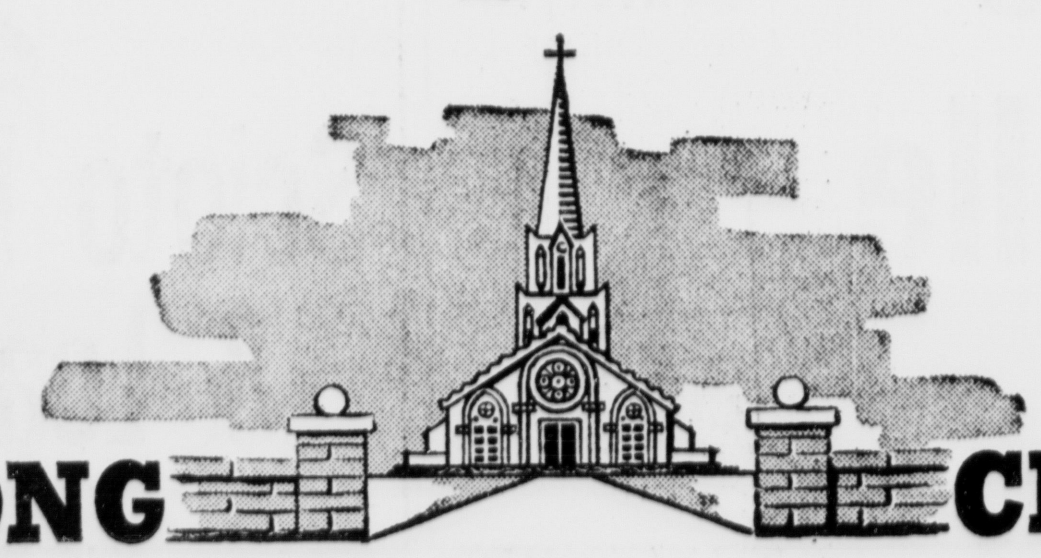

Long ago it became trite to observe that the Church is meant for sinners rather than saints. But it is sound Christian living to recognize honestly our shortcomings . . . and constantly, persistently to seek God's help in overcoming them.

OF tennis AND religion

It happened on the very first point as everyone knew it would. The champ was testing the challenger's backhand.

Champs are like that. Right from the start they probe for some flaw in the opponent's game. And when they find it — look out!

Life is just as probing and relentless. Quickly it uncovers our weaknesses . . . then assaults them again and again.

Is that why men go to church? It's one of the reasons!

Victories never come with glorying in our uncertain strength. They come with doing something about our proven weaknesses.

Long ago it became trite to observe that the Church is meant for sinners rather than saints. But it is sound Christian living to recognize honestly our shortcomings . . . and constantly, persistently to seek God's help in overcoming them.

The Fall of Jerusalem

THE LAST YEARS AND TRAGIC END OF THE SOUTHERN KINGDOM

Scripture—II Kings 24, 25; II Chronicles 36.

By R. H. Ramsey
THE HISTORY of the reigns of the last four kings of Judah is an account of one foolish act after another, a series of personal and national catastrophes culminating in the fall of Jerusalem in 588 B.C.

Josiah, the last "good" king of Judah, died everything in his power to restore Jehovah worship and make it effective in the lives of his people. Unfortunately, he became a pawn in the power struggle between Egypt and Assyria and met an untimely end.

Jehoaiah, his son, became king, but reigned only three months before being dethroned by the reigning Egyptian Pharaoh, who placed Jehoiaikim, another of Josiah's sons, on the throne.

A will of the wisp, Jehoiaikim first paid tribute to Egypt, became a vassal of Nebuchadnezzar, then took the Egyptian side in a war with Babylon. During the war Jehoiaikim suddenly died and was succeeded by his son Jehoiachin.

This king also did evil in the account of the disaster. In the 37th year of Jehoiachin's captivity, a new king of Babylon freed the Jewish monarch from prison, allowed him to eat at the king's own table, and gave him an annuity for the remainder of his life.

Two themes are recurrent throughout this lesson. First that evil of any kind does not pay. The Bible goes to great lengths to show that evil—the flouting of God's law and purpose—results in suffering and the destruction of life's most precious values. God's will must be obeyed, or we suffer punishment. But it is not punishment inflicted in a spirit of revenge, for God is loving. Rather, it is punishment intended to awaken us to the evil we are practicing and to teach us certain eternal truths.

What often appears to us as stark punishment is, viewed from God's standpoint, not punishment at all. It is God attempting to teach us something; punishment for the purpose of reformation.

GOLDEN TEXT

"For the Lord will not cast off forever; but though he cause grief, yet will he have compassion according to the multitude of his mercies."—Lamentations 3:31, 32.

The second theme is that of the remarkable qualities of the Jewish people. They endured, during people in human history. Beginning with Abraham, roughly two thousand years before Christ, they have had a tumultuous history. Hunted, hounded, persecuted through the ages, scattered over the face of the earth, they have survived, overcoming seemingly insurmountable obstacles and handicaps to occupy places of honor and importance throughout the world.

They are God's people. All Scripture testifies to this fact. God chose them and set them aside to render to mankind the greatest of all possible services. Through this nation — springing originally from the twelve sons of Jacob — God has revealed His nature and His divine purposes to and for mankind. The culmination of this message came in the personal life, teachings, death and resurrection of His Son, Jesus Christ, who was Himself, a Jew.

Still, a gleam of hope flickered briefly in the historian's mind. Nebuchadnezzar besieged Jerusalem, burned it to the ground, and took the people into a captivity which lasted 70 years.

After killing Zedekiah's two sons in the presence of their father, Nebuchadnezzar put out Zedekiah's eyes and appointed Gedaliah governor of the land. Seven months later the people revolted, killed the governor and fled to Egypt. Thus the Southern Kingdom came to an end.

Sukarno Still Hero-Figure, But Without Real Power

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno remains the hero-figure of chaotic Indonesia, but at the moment he is a hero and a leader without real power.

How long that situation may continue is anybody's guess in this wholly unpredictable country torn by political and economic turmoil and emerging from a violent convulsion.

Sukarno, who habitually refers to himself as "the great leader," made a speech Wednesday to the new provisional People's Consultative Congress. Written for him by the government presidium, it represented a compromise which underscored Sukarno's odd position.

It attempted to justify what Sukarno had done in the past

LITTER SEASON—The Boy and Girl Scouts teamed up with Keep America Beautiful, Inc., to create these "walking, talking litterbugs" in New York as a reminder to Americans everywhere that the summer holiday litter service is here. KAB pointed out that it will cost the U.S. taxpayers $10 million just to pick up the trash dumped along streets, highways and beaches over the long Fourth of July weekend. The "litterbugs" are Carole Bellini and George Landress, both 14. The "talking litter basket" is Phil D. Basket.

Two themes are recurrent throughout this lesson. First that evil of any kind does not pay. The Bible goes to great lengths to show that evil—the flouting of God's law and purpose—results in suffering and the destruction of life's most precious values. God's will must be obeyed, or we suffer punishment. But it is not punishment inflicted in a spirit of revenge, for God is love, and His purposes are loving. Rather, it is punishment intended to awaken us to the evil we are practicing and to teach us certain eternal truths.

What often appears to us as stark punishment is, viewed from God's standpoint, not punishment at all. It is God attempting to teach us something; punishment for the purpose of reformation.

"For the Lord will not cast off forever; but though he cause grief, yet will he have compassion according to the multitude of his mercies."—Lamentations 3:31, 32.

sight of the Lord, so, in the eighth year of his reign (579 B.C.), the Lord allowed Nebuchadnezzar to take Jerusalem and send 10,000 people—including Jehoiachin—to Babylon as captives.

Giving the Hebrews one last chance, Nebuchadnezzar installed Zedekiah, still another of Josiah's sons, on the throne of Judah. Zedekiah, however, was as sinful as his brothers, and the Lord caused him to rebel unsuccessfully against Nebuchadnezzar.

His patience completely exhausted, Nebuchadnezzar besieged Jerusalem, burned it to the ground, and took the people into a captivity which lasted 70 years.

After killing Zedekiah's two sons in the presence of their father, Nebuchadnezzar put out Zedekiah's eyes and appointed Gedaliah governor of the land. Seven months later the people revolted, killed the governor and fled to Egypt. Thus the Southern Kingdom came to an end.

Still, a gleam of hope flickered briefly in the historian's mind. Based on copyrighted outlines produced by the Divisions of Christian Education, in the U.S.A., and used by permission.

Through this nation — springing originally from the twelve sons of Jacob — God has revealed His nature and His divine purposes to and for mankind. Sukarno Still Hero-Figure, But Without Real Power

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno remains the hero-figure of chaotic Indonesia, but at the moment he is a hero and a leader without real power.

How long that situation may continue is anybody's guess in this wholly unpredictable country torn by political and economic turmoil and emerging from a violent convulsion.

Sukarno, who habitually refers to himself as "the great leader," made a speech Wednesday to the new provisional People's Consultative Congress. Written for him by the government presidium, it represented a compromise which underscored Sukarno's odd position.

It attempted to justify what Sukarno had done in the past

Take Tri-County Victories

Laurelville Boosters edged Saltcreek, 7-6, and Washington road a 15 hit attack to an 11-1 decision over Pickaway Thurs- day in Tri-County Little League games.

Saltcreek jumped off to an early lead, scoring two runs in the top of the first while the Boosters notched one in their half. The Warriors wid- ened their lead with another run in the third, but a four run rally by Laurelville in the fourth put them ahead.

DuPont Gains
First Win
In Pony League

DuPont Pony League team picked up its first win of the season outscoring Savings Bank 16-14, Thursday at Ted Lewis Park.

The Chemicalmen were real- ly out to win as they cracked 18 hits while holding the Bankers to 10.

Doyle Kiser picked up the win for DuPont, coming on in relief of Richard Radcliff. Kiser fanned 10 and walked only one en route to the win.

Mike Fuller and Rickey Jac- obs split mound duties for the Bankers, walking three and fanning six.

Radcliff, Jack Easter, Larry Tipton and Rick Sims tagged triples for the winners while Harold Smith managed the only extra baser for the Bankers, a triple.

4 Indians
Homer in
Rout of Sox

CLEVELAND (AP)—It must be the heat wave. Temperatures have been soaring, and the In- dians bats were just as hot Thursday, when four Tribesmen slammed home runs in an 8-6 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Rocky Colavito hit a two-run homer—his fourth in the last three games—and Fred Whit- field, Jim Landis and Chico Salmon got on the homer band- wagon too. Altogether, the In- dians came up with 14 hits.

The Indians are hanging on in third place three games be- hind Baltimore as they open a series against Kansas City at Municipal Stadium tonight.

Whitfield led off the homer parade with a solo shot in the second inning—his 11th of the season. The Red Sox came back with a run in the bottom of the second to tie the score, but Colavito punched his 11th homer in the third inning to break the tie. Landis opened the seventh with a pinch homer, his third of the year, and Salmon connected for his fifth with two out in the seventh.

Rochester Finds
Richmond Easy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If the Rochester Red Wings could play the Richmond Braves every day, they'd be leading the International League.

As it is, the Red Wings climbed into second place Thursday night by picking on their favorite patsies, 4-3 and 2-0, to move with 4½ games of the front-running Columbus Jets, who lost to Toronto 3-0.

Both teams scored one run in the fifth, and in the sixth, Saltcreek tied the score at 6-6 with two runs.

However, the Boosters scored in the bottom half to break the deadlock.

BRENT EBERT started for Laurelville, walking three and fanning four. He was relieved after three innings by Ralph Smith, who whiffed four. Be- tween them, they gave up seven hits.

Mike Jones started for Salt- creek, walking one and fanning seven. He was relieved by Brad Luckhart who walked four and fanned five. Laurelville got to the two Saltcreek hurlers for four hits, including a double by Kent Ebert. Bobby Brown dou- bled for the losers.

Willis Fannin hurled a one hit ball game for Washington while his teammates backed him up with a 15 hit spurge including a home run by and a double by Gary Francis, a triple and a double each by Mark Justus and John Peters, and a triple by Doug Barnett.

A game between Stoutsville and the Laurelville Boosters, originally slated Monday has been rescheduled July 2.

Lima Hurler
Is Satisfied
With Pact

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—"I am very very satisfied," 20 - year - old Steve Arlin said today after signing a professional baseball contract for what was reported to be in the $100,000 range.

But Arlin said he had made an agreement with the Phila- delphia Phillies not to divulge the size of the bonus he received for signing a contract.

He did say the agreement in- cludes provision for him to re- turn to Ohio State University, where he earned All - America pitching honors two straight years, to enter dental school next fall.

He said he and the club agreed to review his baseball and school status at the beginning of each year. Should he make the Phil- lies, the baseball season might interfere with his regular col- lege calendar "if I want it to interfere with it," Arlin said.

Arlin said his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Arlin, "were knock- ed right off their feet" by the contract he signed.

Arlin was assigned to a Class A team in Bakersfield, Calif., and said he expects to make his first pitching start there early next week.

"I expect it to be tougher but I think I can fit in," he said.

Asked if he expected any problems of adjustment from college to professional baseball, Arlin replied, "I don't expect any problems anywhere."

1st National Downs 2nd in Bank Battle

In the Battle of the Bankers Thursday in the Little League minors, Second National put down First National, 22-13.

The First Bankers were tied for second place at 4-1 but the loss drops them into third. Now they are tied with Second National at 4-2.

Kirk Brown earned the mound win for Second National and Randy Martin took the loss for First National.

Good hitting was the key for First National. Bruce Richards tagged a grand slammer for the winners and Dave Grigg went four for four from the plate.

Mays Aiming At Babe Ruth
Homer Record

Wondrous Willy
Ties Williams'
Output of 521

CHICAGO (AP) — Back in Willie Mays' mind there is something he has to live with but won't admit.

It's breaking the all-time home run record of 714 by Babe Ruth.

Landmarks are falling before wondrous Willy of the National League leading San Francisco Giants. As his team swept a four-game series from the Chi- cago Cubs with a 6-4 victory Thursday and moved on to Cin- cinnati Friday night, Mays had matched Ted Williams' homer production of 521, third on the all-time list.

Jimmy Foxx is second with 534 and it's taken for granted that Willie will catch this one before too long and become the greatest right-handed home-run production man in major-league history.

Mays smashed his 521st in a 13-year career with the Giants and 16th for the season in the first inning Thursday and col- lected two singles afterward for his first three-hit game since the seventh game of the season.

But, somehow, in the Giants' dressing room afterwards, Wil- lie wasn't impressed. He didn't even talk about surpassing Foxx but did dwell on Ruth's great record.

"I'm 35 years old now and I don't think I'll ever beat out Ruth, or even come close to him," he said. "I don't feel any pressure in beating Foxx's mark. But for Ruth, I would have to average 35 to 40 homers every season for at least four or five more years and that's ask- ing a lot when you don't know if you will be playing regularly. The older you get the fewer homers you will hit."

"I really felt the pressure this spring when guys came around and asked me when I would homer to beat Mel Ott's mark. Now I don't think of it anymore. There's no pressure anymore. The homer I hit Thursday was just another home run as far as I'm concerned."

"The only records I know about is what I read in the papers. But I'll admit you do think of them a little after you read about it."

"I don't even know what pitch I hit for my 521st (there were two men aboard and it was a 2-0 pitch off Dick Ellsworth). As for records, I just don't try to analyze them. When you start doing that you don't break them. There are so many, I don't know what they mean any more. I don't set any goals."

Elsewhere, Cincinnati won its sixth straight, beating Pitts- burgh 5-3 and St. Louis edged Houston 2-1.

In the American League, Bal- timore whipped New York 5-2, Cleveland downed Boston 8-6 and Detroit defeated Washing- ton 6-1.

Milt Pappas hit a tie-breaking homer and won his sixth game for the Reds with relief help from Don Nottebart. Vada

Pinson walloped a two-run homer for the Reds.

Bob Gibson pitched a four-hit- ter for his 11th victory as the Cardinals shaded the Astros. Gibson struck out four, raising his total for the year to 139.

Lou Brock tripled leading off in the eighth and rode home on Phil Gagliano's single for St. Louis' winning run.

Cop LL Games

The American Legion topped Purina, 5-2, and Bingmans slammed the Elks, 8-2, Thurs- day in the Major division of the Little League.

Both the Legion and Purina tagged five hits in their tilt, with the Chows grabbing long ball honors. Bill LaGrow blasted a triple and a dou- ble. James Milligan of the Le- gion had the only other extra base hit of the game, a dou- ble.

Kent Wolfe and Milligan split mound duties for the winners, with Wolfe picking up the win. The duo gave up only two walks and fanned nine.

Jeff Harr went the distance for Purina, walking one, whif- fing six and scattering all five hits.

BINGMANS scored all of their runs against the Elks in the first half of the game. They tallied two in the opener, four in the second and two in the third. The BPO Elks scored one in the third and one in the fourth.

Greg Hoskins and Rickey Blankenship worked for the winners, each walking three, fanning six and allowing two hits.

Chuck Sisterman started for the losers. He walked four, whiffed five and scattered five hits before being relieved by Terry Morrison, who allowed

Pappas Hot,
But Able To Cool Pirates

CINCINNATI (AP)—The heat finally got to Milt Pappas but not before he cooled off the Pittsburgh Pirates and helped Cincinnati run its winning streak to six games.

The Reds — with a homer from pitcher Pappas—won their third straight over the Pirates Thursday night, 5-3.

The sweltering 88 degree tem- perature forced Pappas to leave the game at the end of the seventh inning.

"I was laboring all the time," Pappas said. "It was so hot and there was not even a breeze to help."

His homer touched off the three-run winning rally in the fifth inning. Vada Pinson fol- lowed with a two-run homer, his sixth of the season.

Pappas was tagged for nine hits and all the Pirate runs as he brought his record to 6-5.

Don Nottebart finished up in fine style, allowing only one hit in the final two innings.

Manager Don Heffner was excited about the club's sixth straight victory, matching their previous longest winning streak this season, and said the Reds are "in good shape" for a three- game series starting tonight with San Francisco. "We're up mentally and physically," he said.

Pinson walloped a two-run homer for the Reds.

Bob Gibson pitched a four-hit- ter for his 11th victory as the Cardinals shaded the Astros. Gibson struck out four, raising his total for the year to 139.

Lou Brock tripled leading off in the eighth and rode home on Phil Gagliano's single for St. Louis' winning run.

Butch Defeats
Kiwanis, 14-9

In the Babe Ruth League Thursday, L. M. Butch handed Kiwanis a 14-9 defeat.

The Jewelers now stand 4-1 in second place behind General Electric, undefeated in four games. Kiwanis is in third at 2-3.

Nick Wickerham hurled for the winners, walking eight, fanning four and allowing seven hits.

Eddie Wells took the loss for Kiwanis. He went the distance, allowing 12 bases on balls, whif- fing six and scattering nine hits.

John Dean and Ron Bryant had doubles and Bill Gillian had a pair of two base blows for Kiwanis.

Tom Wright had the only ex- tra baser for the winners, a dou- ble.

Bonavena Boasts
After Victory

NEW YORK (AP) — "Pat- erson and Daly, all in one day."

Oscar Bonavena was dream- ing outloud after his razor-thin decision over Toronto's George Chuavlo in a Madison Square Garden heavyweight match Thursday night.

The Argentine champion was surrounded by wildly enthusi- astic fans from his native land. Suddenly a split 10-round deci- sion had turned into an over- powering victory.

"He's strong like a bull," said Bonavena of the Canadian title- holder. "He has a big, big heart. Now I want to fight Floyd Pat- erson, Cassius Clay, anybody."

Piranha Swimmers Lose Meet
With Powerful Mt. Vernon

The Circleville Piranha swim team traveled to Mt. Vernon last night for their first Central Ohio Swim League meet, only to be defeated by a 306 to 174 score.

"Our main weakness is depth," said Swim Coach Jim Shea. "Mt. Vernon threw 115 swimmers at us," Shea said. "We had only about 50. And this is where the difference in the score was, but we still man- aged to gather in 15 first places against one of the strongest teams in the league is not too bad."

Beezie Anderson, called Cir- cleville's super star by Shea, won four first places. They were: Girls diving; 200 meter medley relay girls 17 and under (Butterfly); 100 meter free- style, girls 17 and under; 50 meter butterfly, girls 17 and under.

Two Circleville swimmers won three firsts each. They were: Craig Dresbach, 200 meter medley relay, boys 14 and under; (Backstroke); 50 meter backstroke boys 14 and under; 100 meter backstroke boys 14 and under; Mark Ralston, 200 meter medley relay boys 14 and under (Freestyle) 50 meter But- terfly, boys 14 and under; 50 meter Freestyle, boys 14 and under.

Winning two firsts were: Debbie Shea, 200 meter medley relay girls 17 and under; (Breaststroke); 100 meter girls 17 and under. Eric Fortell, 200 meter medley relay, boys 14 and under (Breaststroke); 50 meter breaststroke, boys 14 and under; Jill Hoffman, 100 Meter Medley Relay, girls 10 and under; 25 meter backstroke girls, 10 and under, Nancy Price, 200 meter medley relay, girls 17 and under (Freestyle);

Single winners for Circleville were: Bill Gates, Boys diving; Carl Hille, 200 meter medley relay boys and 14 and under (Butterfly); Paula Payne, 100 meter medley relay girls 10 and under (Breaststroke); Cindy Hughes 100 meter med- ley relay girls 10 and under, (Butterfly); Nancy Guenther, 100 meter medley relay girls 10 and under (Freestyle).

Laurelville, Washington Take Tri-County Victories

Laurelville Boosters edged Salt Creek, 7-6, and Washington road a 15 hit attack to an 11-1 decision over Pickaway Thursday in Tri-County Little League games.

Salt Creek jumped off to an early lead, scoring two runs in the top of the first while the Boosters notched one in their half. The Warriors widened their lead with another run in the third, but a four run rally by Laurelville in the fourth put them ahead.

DuPont Gains First Win In Pony League

DuPont Pony League team picked up its first win of the season outscoring Savoy's Bank 16-14, Thursday at Ted Lewis Park.

The Chemicalmen were really out to win as they cracked 18 hits while holding the Bankers to 10.

Doyle Kiser picked up the win for DuPont, coming in relief of Richard Radcliff. Kiser fanned 10 and walked only one en route to the win.

Mike Fuller and Rickey Jacobs split mound duties for the Bankers, walking three and fanning six.

Radcliff, Jack Easter, Larry Tipton and Rick Sims tagged triples for the winners while Harold Smith managed the only extra baser for the Bankers, a triple.

4 Indians Homer in Rout of Sox

CLEVELAND (AP)—It must be the heat wave. Temperatures have been soaring, and the Indians bats were just as hot Thursday, when four Tribesmen slammed home runs in an 8-6 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Rocky Colavito hit a two-run homer—his fourth in the last three games—and Fred Whitfield, Jim Landis and Chico Salmon got on the homer bandwagon too. Altogether, the Indians came up with 14 hits.

The Indians are hanging on in third place three games behind Baltimore as they open a series against Kansas City at Municipal Stadium tonight.

Whitfield led off the homer parade with a solo shot in the second inning—his 11th of the season. The Red Sox came back with a run in the bottom of the second to tie the score, but Colavito punched his 11th homer in the third inning to break the tie. Landis opened the seventh with a pinch homer, his third of the year, and Salmon connected for his fifth with two out in the seventh.

Rochester Finds Richmond Easy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
If the Rochester Red Wings could play the Richmond Braves every day, they'd be leading the International League.

As it is, the Red Wings climbed into second place Thursday night by picking on their favorite patsies, 4-3 and 2-0, to move with 4½ games of the front-running Columbus Jets, who lost to Toronto 3-0.

Mays Aiming At Babe Ruth Homer Record

Wondrous Willy Ties Williams' Output of 521

CHICAGO (AP)—Back in Willie Mays' mind there is something he has to live with but won't admit.

It's breaking the all-time home run record of 714 by Babe Ruth.

Landmarks are falling before wondrous Willy of the National League leading San Francisco Giants. As his team swept a four-game series from the Chicago Cubs with a 6-4 victory Thursday and moved on to Cincinnati Friday night, Mays had matched Ted Williams' homer production of 521, third on the all-time list.

Jimmy Foxx is second with 534 and it's taken for granted that Willie will catch this one before too long and become the greatest right-handed home-run production man in major-league history.

Mays smashed his 521st in a 13-year career with the Giants and 16th for the season in the first inning Thursday and collected two singles afterward for his first three-hit game since the seventh game of the season.

But, somehow, in the Giants' dressing room afterwards, Willie wasn't impressed. He didn't even talk about surpassing Foxx but did dwell on Ruth's great record.

"I'm 35 years old now and I don't think I'll ever beat out Ruth, or even come close to him," he said. "I don't feel any pressure in beating Foxx's mark. But for Ruth, I would have to average 35 to 40 homers every season for at least four or five more years and that's asking a lot when you don't know if you will be playing regularly. The older you get the fewer homers you will hit."

"I really felt the pressure this spring when guys came around and asked me when I would homer to beat Mel Ott's mark. Now I don't think of it anymore. There's no pressure anymore. The homer I hit Thursday was just another home run as far as I'm concerned."

"The only records I know about is what I read in the papers. But I'll admit you do think of them a little after you read about it."

"I don't even know what pitch I hit for my 521st (there were two men aboard and it was a 2-0 pitch off Dick Ellsworth). As for records, I just don't try to analyze them. When you start doing that you don't break them. There are so many, I don't know what they mean any more. I don't set any goals."

Elsewhere, Cincinnati won its sixth straight, beating Pittsburgh 5-3 and St. Louis edged Houston 2-1.

In the American League, Baltimore whipped New York 5-2, Cleveland downed Boston 8-6 and Detroit defeated Washington 6-1.

Milt Pappas hit a tie-breaking homer and won his sixth game for the Reds with relief help from Don Nottebart. Vada Pinson walloped a two-run homer for the Reds.

Bob Gibson pitched a four-hitter for his 11th victory as the Cardinals shaded the Astros. Gibson struck out four, raising his total for the year to 139.

Piranha Swimmers Lose Meet With Powerful Mt. Vernon

The Circleville Piranha swim team traveled to Mt. Vernon last night for their first Central Ohio Swim League meet, only to be defeated by a 306 to 174 score.

"Our main weakness is depth," said Swim Coach Jim Shea. "Mt. Vernon threw 115 swimmers at us," Shea said. "We had only about 50. And this is where the difference in the score was, but we still managed to gather in 15 first places against one of the strongest teams in the league is not too bad."

Beezie Anderson, called Circleville's super star by Shea, won four first places. They were: Girls diving; 200 meter medley relay girls 17 and under (Butterfly); 100 meter freestyle, girls 17 and under; 50 meter butterfly, girls 17 and under.

Two Circleville swimmers won three firsts each. They were: Craig Dresbach, 200 meter medley relay, boys 14 and under; (Backstroke); 50 meter backstroke boys 14 and under; 100 meter backstroke boys 14 and under; Mark Ralston, 200 meter medley relay boys 14 and under (Freestyle); 50 meter butterfly, boys 14 and under; 50 meter Freestyle, boys 14 and under.

Winning two firsts were: Debbie Shea, 200 meter medley relay girls 17 and under; (Backstroke); 100 meter girls 17 and under; Eric Fortell, 200 meter medley relay, boys 14 and under (Backstroke); 50 meter backstroke, boys 14 and under; Jill Hoffman, 100 Meter Medley Relay, girls 10 and under; 25 meter backstroke girls 10 and under; Nancy Price, 200 meter medley relay, girls 17 and under (Freestyle); 100 meter freestyle, girls 17 and under.

Single winners for Circleville were: Bill Gates, Boys diving; Carl Hille, 200 meter medley relay boys and 14 and under (Butterfly); Paula Payne, 100 meter medley relay girls 10 and under (Breaststroke); Cindy Hughes 100 meter medley relay girls 10 and under, (Butterfly); Nancy Guenther, 100 meter medley relay girls 10 and under (Freestyle).

Two Circleville swimmers set Mt. Vernon Pool Records during the meet. Debbie Shea broke the pool record in the 100 meter breaststroke for girls 17 and under she set last year. Miss Shea swam the 100 meters last night in 1:32.3. Her old record was 1:32.8. Jill Hoffman established a Mt. Vernon pool Record in the 25 meter backstroke for girls 10 and under in a time of :23.05.

On Saturday, 17 of the Circleville swimmers will travel to Gahanna to take part in the Gahanna Invitational.

Yanks Lead Teays Valley Little League

The Teays Valley Little League has entered its third week of competition with the Yankees still leading the league.

They have four consecutive wins. The Dodgers have three wins without a loss and are in second place. The Reds are 3-1, the Cards and Giants are 1-2 and the Mets have a single win in four contests. The Indians are winless.

The Yanks came out on top, 7-4, in a battle with the Mets last week. Tom Ainslie, Steve Bumgarner and Mike VanGundy all hit singles. Lester Scarberry and Jim Logdon each hit two singles for the Mets while Robert Archer had a double and Don Archer had a home run.

Jerry Sabine was the mound winner for the Yanks while Lester Scarberry was handed the loss.

The Giants and Indians had a slugfest with the Giants coming out on top, 17-10. For the winning Giants Nichols had a single and double, Jeff Sheets had two doubles, Crosby had two singles and Spurlock had a triple. For the losing Indians Jim Pabst had a single and a homerun, Tim Carpenter had a single and two doubles while Jay Derr chipped in with two doubles. Jeff Sheets picked up the win for the Giants while Jim Pabst was charged with the loss.

The Cardinals and Redlegs exchanged base hits with the Redlegs doubling the score on the Cards, 14-7. Robert Smith had two singles for the Redlegs while Randy Nungster blasted three singles and Steve Sawyer two doubles. For the losing Cardinals Joe Lombardo had a single and a double, as did Jeff Lee while Bill Hines had a single and triple. Jay Brinker was the mound winner for the Redlegs while Jim Blankenship was charged with the defeat.

The Dodgers slaughtered the Indians, 18-4. Sammy Wilson helped his own cause by blasting a double and a triple while Jack Brinker had three doubles and Pat McCarthy chipped in with two doubles. Jimmy Wilson continued the attack with one double. For the losing Indians Terry Lambert blasted a double and two singles, while taking the mound loss. Sammy Wilson picked up the win as the Dodgers have yet to lose.

One of the better games of the season saw the Yanks edging the Redlegs 8-6 in a 7 inning game. Jerry Sabine and Tom Ainslie led the hitting attack for the Yanks with Jerry stroking out two singles and a triple while Tom had two singles and a double. For the losing Redlegs Jay Brinker and Jeff Jenkins each had two singles. Mike Van Gundy was the winning hurler while Steve Sawyer was the loser.

Bolt Leading Western Open

Terrible Tommy No Longer Furious

CHICAGO (AP) — Tommy Bolt, now a humorous rather than a furious golfer, has upstaged the Billy Casper-Arnold Palmer vendetta in the $100,000 Western Open which moved into its second round at the tough Medinah course today.

Bolt, once the Terrible Tommy with a club-breaking temper, uncorked a three-under-par 68 Thursday for a one-stroke lead over a runner-up trio including Casper, the new U. S. open champion, and a four-stroke margin over Palmer.

Casper, saying "Now that I'm the National Open champion I've got something to live up to," began his Western Open title defense with a 69. That was matched by Harold (Catfish) Kneee and Doug Sanders.

Palmer, admitting "I'm still playing from last week," trailed in a 12-player tie for 18th place with a one-over-par 72.

His remark referred to his collapse in the National Open at San Francisco when he twice was blitzed by Casper in Sunday's final round and Monday's playoff.

Bolt, 48, an infrequent circuit practioner because of bursitis in his shoulder, enjoyed the spotlight that has escaped him since his last tour victory in the 1961 Pensacola Open.

"I had a typical Palmer round. I was all over the place, everywhere you could possibly go, and still got the ball in the hole," said Bolt of his 32-36 start over Medinah's forest-cramped, par 36-35-71 layout rambling over 7,014 yards.

An opening round hole-in-one was posted by Lionel Hebert, his fifth ace of his career. But the feat with a five-iron on the 178-yard second hole didn't help much. Hebert shot 35-37-72.

The field of 124 pros, seeking top money of $20,000, will be trimmed to the low 75 scores and ties today, and to the low 60 and ties after Saturday's round.

New Cage Mentor Named At Washington

Jim Wilson a graduate of Washington C. H. High School, had been named the head basketball coach at his alma mater.

Wilson replaces Virgil Morgan, who resigned after the past season. Wilson is a 1962 graduate of Wittenberg University where he was an All-Ohio Conference guard on the football squad.

He taught at Rockway Junior High School, Springfield, where he was also head football, basketball and track coach.

During the 1963 season, Wilson was the reserve cage coach at Washington High School. He moved to Springfield the following year as an assistant coach.

John R. Bane Jr., a Washington High School teacher, has been designated as the new athletic director, to replace Norman Stanghy, who also recently resigned.

Detroit Tiger pitchers Hank Aguirre and Mickey Lolich are switch hitters.

Powerful Australian Net Crew Shines at Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — The powerful Australian tennis contingent today claimed six places in the last 16 of the Wimbledon tournament, and the big question was who can stop Roy Emerson from winning again.

"Emmo is hitting the ball so beautifully," said U.S. Davis Cup team manager George MacCall after watching the champion eliminate one of his American hopes, Charlie Pasarell.

"Is anyone going to stop him? It's a $64,000 question."

The next man to try will be Stan Smith, a 20-year-old from Pasadena, Calif., who battered Keith Wollridge, one of Britain's bright young prospects, 6-3, 6-2, 6-3 in the third round Thursday.

Bonus Baby In Dutch With Bosox

BOSTON (AP) — Jerry Stephenson, a young right-hander signed for a big bonus by the Boston Red Sox in 1962, faced stiff disciplinary action today for his disappearance act.

The 22-year-old Stephenson was suspended without pay, effective last Friday, when he was assigned on option to Toronto in the International League and failed to report.

Stephenson left Boston last Saturday, presumably headed for Toronto. A search was started when he failed to join the Boston farm club.

The Red Sox were notified Thursday that Stephenson called his mother from Flagstaff, Ariz., and said he was driving to the family home in Anaheim, Calif. The Red Sox then imposed the suspension and said the young hurler was subject to further disciplinary action.

Signed out of high school for a reported bonus of more than $75,000 by his father, Joe, a Red Sox scout, Stephenson had a 1-5 record while bothered by arm trouble as a major league rookie last year.

He showed no sign of arm misery this season, but was ineffective, winning only two of seven decisions with a 5.86 earned run average.

DeGraff Pacer Grabs Feature At Scioto

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Lady Ohio, owned by James Ellis of DeGraff Ohio, came from behind to defeat Gallion's Goldie by a nose in the $1,500 feature pace at Scioto Downs Thursday night.

Driven by Marc Ferguson, the 4-year-old mare posted a new lifetime mark for the mile of 2:03 2-5 to win her third victory of the year.

With his Honorable Discharge papers hanging over his back, Dexter sadly passes in review at the Naval Home, on his way to Ryer's Infirmary for Dumb Animals.

Besides the six Australians and three Americans, those battling for places in the quarter-finals were a South African, a Briton, a Frenchman, an Indian, a Spaniard, a Dutchman and a Dane.

The Spaniard is stylish Manuel Santana, who crushed Davis Cupper Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., 6-3, 6-21-0-8.

Ryun Mile Mark May Come Soon

NEW YORK (AP) — Most everyone in track and field expects Jim Ryun to set the world mile record sooner or later. The 19-year-old frosh at Kansas may do it this weekend at the National Amateur Athletic Union championships.

Ryun became the world's second fastest miler with a 3:53.7 in Los Angeles several weeks ago. Michel Jazy of France holds the record with a 3:53.6.

Jim Grelle, of Portland, Ore., finished second to Ryun at Los Angeles in 3:56 and is expected to provide the chief opposition to his younger opponent when the mile is run Sunday at Downing Stadium on Randall's Island.

Yanks Lead Teays Valley Little League

The Teays Valley Little League has entered its third week of competition with the Yankees still leading the league.

They have four consecutive wins. The Dodgers have three wins without a loss and are in second place. The Reds are 3-1, the Cards and Giants are 1-2 and the Mets have a single win in four contests. The Indians are winless.

The Yanks came out on top, 7-4, in a battle with the Mets last week. Tom Ainslie, Steve Bumgarner and Mike VanGundy all hit singles. Lester Scarberry and Jim Logdon each hit two singles for the Mets while Robert Archer had a double and Don Archer had a home run.

Jerry Sabine was the mound winner for the Yanks while Lester Scarberry was handed the loss. The Giants and Indians had a slugfest with the Giants coming out on top, 17-10. For the winning Giant, Nichols had a single and double, Jeff Sheets had two doubles, Crosby had two singles and Spurlock had a triple. For the losing Indians Jim Pabst had a single and a homerun, Tim Carpenter had a single and two doubles while Jay Derr chipped in with two doubles. Jeff Sheets picked up the win for the Giants while Jim Pabst was charged with the loss.

The Cardinals and Redlegs exchanged base hits with the Redlegs doubling the score on the Cards, 14-7. Robert Smith had two singles for the Redlegs while Randy Nungster blasted three singles and Steve Sawyer two doubles. For the losing Cardinals Joe Lombardo had a single and a double, as did Jeff Lee while Bill Hines had a single and triple. Jay Brinker was the mound winner for the Redlegs while Jim Blankenship was charged with the defeat.

The Dodgers slaughtered the Indians, 18-4. Sammy Wilson helped his own cause by blasting a double and a triple while Jack Brinker had three doubles and Pat McCarthy chipped in with two doubles. Jimmy Wilson continued the attack with one double. For the losing Indians Terry Lambert blasted a double and two singles, while taking the mound loss. Sammy Wilson picked up the win as the Dodgers have yet to lose.

One of the better games of the season saw the Yanks edging the Redlegs 8-6 in a 7 inning game. Jerry Sabine and Tom Ainslie led the hitting attack for the Yanks with Jerry stroking out two singles and a triple while Tom had two singles and a double. For the losing Redlegs Jay Brinker and Jeff Jenkins each had two singles. Mike Van Gundy was the winning hurler while Steve Sawyer was the loser.

Bolt Leading Western Open

Terrible Tommy No Longer Furious

CHICAGO (AP) — Tommy Bolt, now a humorous rather than a furious golfer, has upstaged the Billy Casper-Arnold Palmer vendetta in the $100,000 Western Open which moved into its second round at the tough Medinah course today.

Bolt, once the Terrible Tommy with a club-breaking temper, uncorked a three-under-par 68 Thursday for a one-stroke lead over a runner-up trio including Casper, the new U. S. open champion, and a four-stroke margin over Palmer.

Casper, saying "Now that I'm the National Open champion I've got something to live up to," began his Western Open title defense with a 69. That was matched by Harold (Catfish) Kneee and Doug Sanders.

Palmer, admitting "I'm still playing from last week," trailed in a 12-player tie for 18th place with a one-over-par 72.

His remark referred to his collapse in the National Open at San Francisco when he twice was blitzed by Casper in Sunday's final round and Monday's playoff.

Bolt, 48, an infrequent circuit practitioner because of bursitis in his shoulder, enjoyed the spotlight that has escaped him since his last tour victory in the 1961 Pensacola Open.

"I had a typical Palmer round. I was all over the place, everywhere you could possibly go, and still got the ball in the hole," said Bolt of his 32-36 start over Medinah's forest-cramped, par 36-35-71 layout rambling over 7,014 yards.

An opening round hole-in-one was posted by Lionel Hebert, his fifth ace of his career. But the feat with a five-iron on the 178-yard second hole didn't help much. Hebert shot 35-37-72.

The field of 124 pros, seeking top money of $20,000, will be trimmed to the low 75 scores and ties today, and to the low 60 and ties after Saturday's round.

New Cage Mentor Named At Washington

Jim Wilson, a graduate of Washington C. H. High School, had been named the head basketball coach at his alma mater.

Wilson replaces Virgil Morgan, who resigned after the past season. Wilson is a 1962 graduate of Wittenberg University where he was an All-Ohio Conference guard on the football squad.

He taught at Rockway Junior High School, Springfield, where he was also head football, basketball and track coach.

During the 1963 season, Wilson was the reserve cage coach at Washington High School. He moved to Springfield the following year as an assistant coach.

John R. Bane Jr., a Washington High School teacher, has been designated as the new athletic director, to replace Norman Stangby, who also recently resigned.

Detroit Tiger pitchers Hank Aguirre and Mickey Lolich are switch hitters.

Powerful Australian Net Crew Shines at Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — The powerful Australian tennis contingent today claimed six places in the last 16 of the Wimbledon tournament, and the big question was who can stop Roy Emerson from winning again.

"Emmo is hitting the ball so beautifully," said U.S. Davis Cup team manager George MacCall after watching the champion eliminate one of his American hopes, Charlie Pasarell.

"Is anyone going to stop him? It's a $64,000 question."

The next man to try will be Stan Smith, a 20-year-old from Pasadena, Calif., who battered Keith Woldridge, one of Britain's bright young prospects, 6-3, 6-2, 6-3 in the third round Thursday.

Bonus Baby In Dutch With Bosox

BOSTON (AP) — Jerry Stephenson, a young right-hander signed for a big bonus by the Boston Red Sox in 1962, faced stiff disciplinary action today for his disappearance act.

The 22-year-old Stephenson was suspended without pay, effective last Friday, when he was assigned on option to Toronto in the International League and failed to report.

Stephenson left Boston last Saturday, presumably headed for Toronto. A search was started when he failed to join the Boston farm club.

The Red Sox were notified Thursday that Stephenson called his mother from Flagstaff, Ariz., and said he was driving to the family home in Anaheim, Calif. The Red Sox then imposed the suspension and said the young hurler was subject to further disciplinary action.

Signed out of high school for a reported bonus of more than $75,000 by his father, Joe, a Red Sox scout, Stephenson had a 1-5 record while bothered by arm trouble as a major league rookie last year.

He showed no sign of arm misery this season, but was ineffective, winning only two of seven decisions with a 5.86 earned run average.

DeGraff Pacer Grabs Feature at Scioto

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Lady Ohio, owned by James Ellis of DeGraff, Ohio, came from behind to defeat Gallion's Goldie by a nose in the $1,500 feature pace at Scioto Downs Thursday night.

Driven by Marc Ferguson, the 4-year-old mare posted a new lifetime mark for the mile of 2:03 2-5 to win her third victory of the year.

Smith is one of three Americans left in contention. The others are Dennis Ralston of Bak-ersfield, Calif., who defeated South Africa's Keith Diepraam 6-2, 4-6, 6-1, 6-1, and Cliff Richey of Dallas, Tex., 6-2, 7-5, 9-7 winner over Frenchman Georges Goven.

The strength of the Australian bid for the title was underlined once more. A second Australian seeded player was eliminated, John Newcombe, fifth favorite for the title. The man who mastered him was another Aussie, 26-year-old Ken Fletcher.

In the previous round Fred Stolle, the lanky Australian who has been runner-up three years running, was defeated by Australian Bob Hewitt. Another Australian giant-killer, Owen Davidson, defeated eighth seeded Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, in the second round.

Besides the six Australians and three Americans, those battling for places in the quarter-finals were a South African, a Briton, a Frenchman, an Indian, a Spaniard, a Dutchman and a Dane.

The Spaniard is stylish Manuel Santana, who crushed Davis Cupper Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., 6-3, 6-21, 0-8.

Ohio Weekend Fishing To Be Fair to Good

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—With all the state's lakes and streams reported clear and normal, Ohio anglers should have fair to good fishing results in the coming weekend, the Division of Wildlife reported today.

The division added, however, that with the advent of hot weather, anglers should adjust their fishing depth and types of bait accordingly.

The outlook by regions:

CENTRAL OHIO—Bass, bluegills, crappies and catfish dominate the catches. Knox, Indian and Richwood lakes and the Delaware, Hoover, and O'Sahnessy reservoirs appear to be best. The Kokosing and Great Miami rivers and the Big Darby continue to yield good catches of bass and catfish. Outlook for the weekend is fair to good.

NORTHWESTERN OHIO — Lakes and streams appear equally productive for fishing success. Some of the recommended lakes and reservoirs to try are Ferguson, Metzger, Harrison, Norwalk, Evergreen, Findlay and Fostoria. Stream anglers should not overlook the Maumee, Huron, Vermilion and Sandusky rivers. Outlook for the weekend is good.

NORTHEASTER OHIO — Lakes appear to be more productive than streams. Try Pleasant Hill and Mosquito for white bass, Mosquito and Pymautning for walleye; Punderson and Oberlin for trout; Leesville for muskies, Portage, LaDue, Findley, Kipton, Acquia, and Leesville for bass, crappies and bluegills. Stream fishing will be best in the Vermilion, Grand and Chagrin rivers. Outlook for the weekend is good.

SOUTHEASTERN OHIO—Best catches are being made in early morning and late evening. For bass, bluegills, and catfish try Dillon, Jackson Piedmont, Seneca, Burr Oak, Tyecon, and Dow. Try Jackson City Reservoir for bass bluegills and perch. Catfish, bass, muskies and walleye are being taken in the Muskingum, Walhonding and Scioto rivers. Outlook for the weekend is good.

SOUTHWESTERN OHIO —

LAKE ERIE AND SANDUSKY BAY — The water condition is good. Good catches of perch, channel catfish white bass, and fresh water drum are being taken. Some walleye are also being taken. The Bass Islands, Marblehead, and Catawba areas are good spots to try. Outlook for the weekend is good.

SOUTHWESTERN OHIO — Stream and lakes appear to be equally considerable of the fisherman's desires. Some of the better lakes to try are Clark Aton, Grant, Decker, Rocky Fork, Cowan, and Grand-Lake

Ohio Weekend Fishing To Be Fair to Good

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—With all the state's lakes and streams reported clear and normal, Ohio anglers should have fair to good fishing results in the coming weekend, the Division of Wildlife reported today.

The division added, however, that with the advent of hot weather, anglers should adjust their fishing depth and types of bait accordingly.

The outlook by regions: CENTRAL OHIO—Bass, bluegills, crappies and catfish dominate the catches. Knox, Indian and Richwood lakes and the Delaware, Hoover, and O'Saghtnessy reservoirs appear to be best. The Kokosing and Great Miami rivers and the Big Darby continue to yield good catches of bass and catfish. Outlook for the weekend is fair to good.

NORTHWESTERN OHIO — Lakes and streams appear equally productive for fishing success. Some of the recommended lakes and reservoirs to try are Ferguson, Metzger, Harrison, Norwalk, Evergreen, Findlay and Fostoria. Stream anglers should not overlook the Maumee, Huron, Vermilion and Sandusky rivers. Outlook for the weekend is good.

NORTHEASTERN OHIO — Lakes appear to be more productive than streams. Try Pleasant Hill and Mosquito for white bass, Mosquito and Pymouting for walleye; Punderson and Oberlin for trout; Leesville or muskies, Portage, LaDue, Findlay, Kipton, Aquila, and Leesville for bass, crappies and bluegills. Stream fishing will be best in the Vermilion, Grand and Chagrin rivers. Outlook for the weekend is good.

SOUTHEASTERN OHIO—Best catches are being made in early morning and late evening. For bass, bluegills, and catfish try Millon, Jackson Piedmont, Seneca, Burr Oak, Tycoon, and Dow. Try Jackson City Reservoir for bass bluegills and perch. Catfish, bass, muskies and walleye are being taken in the Muskingum, Walhonding and Scioto rivers. Outlook for the weekend is good.

2 Chemists Added to DuPont Research, Development Lab

MERWIN L. ODENBAUGH

RICHARD J. THEIS

Two additional chemists have joined the DuPont Circleville Research and Development Laboratory.

They are Richard J. Theis, 1186 Atwater Ave., and Merwin L. Odenbaugh, 116 Reber Ave.

Odenbaugh is a graduate of the University of North Dakota. He received his B.S. in Chem-mistry in 1960, his B. S. in Chemical Engineering in 1965 and his M.S. in Chemical Engineering this year.

He was associated with the United States Bureau of Mines, Grand Forks, N. D., from September 1961 until September 1965. Married, he is the father of a 3 1/2 year old daughter, Susan.

Theis received his B.S. in Chemistry from Xavier University in 1960. In 1962, he received his M. S. Degree in Organic Chemistry from Xavier.

He received his Ph. D in Organic Chemistry in June of this year from the University of Cincinnati.

Married, he and his wife, Frances, are the parents of three children, Maria, 3 1/2; Laura, 1 1/2; Eric, six months.

Arizona Pair Signs Loyalty Affirmation

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Barbara and Vernon Elfrandt have signed a simple affirmation of their loyalty to the state and nation, ending a five-year battle against Arizona's loyalty oath.

Their decision to sign the oath declared unconstitutional in April by the U. S. Supreme Court — cleared the way for the Quaker couple to receive more than $60,000 in back pay.

But there may be more legal roadblocks in the way.

The Elfrandts may have to file suit to receive the money withheld by their school boards in Tucson District One and the Amphitheater District. At least one of the boards has taken the issue up with an attorney.

Most of it will be used to pay off loans they have received while working without pay for five years, they said.

Despite the high court's 5-4 ruling April 18 that the oath was unconstitutional on grounds it "threatens the cherished freedom of association protected by the First Amendment, the Arizona Supreme Court held last month that it would say in effect.

Chief Justice Fred C. Struckmeyer Jr., who wrote the state court's opinion, said the U. S. Supreme Court apparently only invalidated the criminal penalties and said "there is some measure of ambiguity" in the ruling.

The oath violated their individual rights, the couple maintained. The high court upheld that contention.

Engineers Help Restore Sick Bodies

BOSTON (AP) — Physicians and engineers are joining in a new partnership to restore sick bodies and assist or replace worn out vital parts.

"The work is too big for doctors to do alone any more," says Dr. John P. Merrill of Harvard Medical School, a leader in research that led to artificial kidney machines.

The kidney machines, artificial hearts, heart pacemakers, and man-made replacement parts such as heart valves all pose interwoven medical and engineering problems that are best handled by a team approach that was not necessary for other types of medical devices.

At Tufts-New England Medical Center, for example, the surgical research staff includes a full time engineer and two consulting engineers.

Some potential long-range results from this teamwork may be measured from what the full time engineer, William C. Birtwell, thinks about hospital beds.

His thoughts for improvement center on some type of chamber that would make it possible to do for hospital patients what space capsules do for astronauts—put them in an environment totally different from the one around them.

For some patients, just normal atmospheric conditions — not to mention problems with infection — can be as hostile as the void of space is to a healthy human, he says.

Imagine, for instance, the possibility of keeping a badly burned patient suspended in a weightless state, instead of in contact with bed sheets that complicate treatments.

For the moment, however, Birtwell is more concerned with research on mechanical aids for poorly functioning hearts.

An electrical engineer himself, he says "any intelligent engineer brought into a medical problem at the proper level can quickly learn the terminology and understand the basis of the problem so he can look at it from an engineer's viewpoint."

To illustrate the gulf in understanding that can exist between physicians and engineers, Dr. Ralph A. Deterling Jr., surgeon-in-chief at Tufts, cites an experience when he sought to learn how sturdy a new fabric would be if he placed it in a patient as part of an operation.

He was told that the material was guaranteed indefinitely, which prompted him to ask how the manufacturer could be sure. "It was left out in the weather on a roof for a year and showed no signs of deterioration" was the response.

Just as the answer showed the need for textile manufacturers to learn about the effects that the body's unique set of chemicals can have in reaction with substances, Dr. Deterling says, it also demonstrated that "we physicians must be able to define better what we need."

Rather than seek solutions on his own and then ask an engineer to implement them, Dr. Deterling explains, the physician is learning that he must "show the engineer what the problem is so he can feel it, smell it and sweat it," and then the two can work effectively together.

Researchers say another major assist was given to collaboration between engineering and medicine about three years ago when the National Institute of Health began to allow money for medical research to be used for subcontracts with industry. "Contract research used to be a dirty word in medicine," says Harvard's Dr. Merrill, "But now that the government will give a grant for a company to develop medical devices — just as contracts are given for aerospace work — we've received a big impetus."

Napoleon Bypass Due To Be Completed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Highway Department plans groundbreaking for the final section of the 14.6-mile U.S. 6-24 bypass of Napoleon on Tuesday, June 28.

Gov. James A. Rhodes and Highway Director P. E. Masheter and other department officials will take part in the ceremonies at 9:30 a.m. on U. S. 24 east of Napoleon.

The last 3.6-mile section costing more than $32 million lies between existing U. S. 24 east of Napoleon and Ohio 109 and existing U. S. 6.

No Quick Cure Is Expected On Pollution

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A legislative study on water pollution has been warned against hoping for quick cures for pollution and that a complete cleansing of Ohio's lakes, rivers and streams may be neither possible nor desirable.

"There is no sense," said Frank A. Butrico of Battelle Memorial Institute's Washington, D.C., office, "in talking of cleansing up all of the state's rivers for recreation and industrial purposes." Such improvements in some streams would be too expensive, he said.

Butrico, one of four pollution experts appearing before the study subcommittee Thursday, also warned, "We can't restore Lake Erie to its state of pristine purity."

"We can't even partially restore it in a short period of time," he added.

He said not enough is known about waterways themselves to hope that pollution can be eliminated simply by controlling municipal and industrial discharges into them.

"The crux of the problem," he said, "isn't the effluent, but what is happening in that river."

The researcher noted that not all discharges are harmful, and in some cases, treatment plans for individual industries are not necessary. Some industries might be able to avoid polluting a stream merely by holding their discharges until a certain season is past, he said.

We have to find out "what is happening out there in the river," he explained. "To treat the effluent at the plant, we may find that the net effect is nil."

The subcommittee is working with the Legislative Service Commission, fact-finding arm of the legislature, and will present its recommendations for action to the next General Assembly.

Solon Rapped For Sniping At Exemption

WASHINGTON (AP) — The draft status of actor George Hamilton, who has been dating Lynda Bird Johnson, was brought into hearings on the operations of the Selective Service here by Rep. Alvin O'Konski, R-Wis., who in turn was accused by a general of "indicting America."

Without mentioning Hamilton by name, O'Konski noted that he had read in newspapers about "a movie actor in California with a $200,000 home and a $30,000 Rolls Royce" and an annual income of $10, who got a deferment because he has "to support his mother who went through four husbands."

"That system nauseates me," O'Konski said, comparing the case with poor youths with large families who had been drafted in his district.

Hamilton was classified 3A by his New York City draft board several years ago on grounds members of his family depended on him for their support.

Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service director who was on the witness stand during O'Konski's remarks, said there was not much he could say in reply to O'Konski. "He is indicting America," the general said of O'Konski.
